THE PEDRICK COAT OF ARMS

The College of Arms of London, England, granted this coat of arms to Percy Vivian Giles Pedrick in 1928.

The shield or field for bearings is azure (the clear blue of the sky) with two bezants (a gold coin of Constantinople in use from the 6th to the 16th Century) and two sickles erect, blades inward of the field, a bezant between two escallops (a mollusk or shell fish having a ribbed shell with a wavy edge). The crest or bearing set not upon the shield but about the helm as ornamentation consists of a wreath of the colors containing sickles representing work and balls representing play and shells, and the motto assigned is "Work hard, Play hard."

The presumption why no early grant of coat of arms to this name was made is because some family search in England disclosed that the Pedricks landed in that country as pirates from Norway where there are now people of the name carrying on the work of bankers. Nothing more has been learned about any work on this subject by anyone abroad.

INTRODUCTION

The English made their first attempt at settlement in the vicinity of Salem, New Jersey, in 1641. A few families of about sixty persons, probably from Connecticut, settled on the 'Ferkins' now Salem Creek. The Swedes then bought the entire district in 1642.

In 1654 the Swedes were obliged to give up their possessions to the Dutch who in turn submitted later to the English in 1664 at which time the Duke of York conveyed to Lord Berkeley and Sir George Cartaret the province of New Jersey. Lord Berkeley got the undivided half of West Jersey which was purchased in 1673 for one thousand pounds by John Fenwick and Edward Billynge, members of the Society of Friends. The conveyance was executed in trust to Fenwick for Billynge. This trust was later divided into one hundred parts called tenths; ratio of one to Fenwick and nine to Billynge. In 1675 Fenwick set sail from London in the ship Griffin to settle the purchase. He landed at a spot he called Salem, and came with his three daughters, their husbands, children and ten servants.

He set about conveyance from the Indians of the land included in Salem and Cumberland counties in three separate purchases. Emigrants followed and sales were rapidly made from these lands in large and small tracts until his death in 1683 or 1684. "New Salem" was started and lots disposed of according to a general agreement signed by Fenwick and the first purchasers. In 1695 the town was incorporated. (Barber & Howe, 1844.)

Part of the land embraced in Fenwick's colony from Old Mans Creek to the Cohansey was originally settled by English from New Haven, Conn., under Theophilus Eaton. They settled on what is known as the Amos Harris farm at the mouth of Salem Creek. They did not stay there long. They then settled at Fort Elfsborg built March 1, 1642, on the east bank of Salem Creek near its mouth. This fort was constructed by Swedes under Governor Printz and was commanded by Sven Skute. Subsequently it became untenable because of mosquitoes and was called "Myggenborg" (Mosquito Fort). (Historic Roadsides in New Jersey, 1928, Glenny.)

During the interim between the purchase of the above land in London in 1673 and the time of Fenwick's sailing in 1675 he set about interesting various people in the enterprise, with the view of purchasing for speculation or of immigrating to settle in America. There were merchants and others able and willing to bargain for large tracts with no thought of coming themselves, but for the most part those agreeing to buy land were like William Penn and John Fenwick, recent adherents to the Society of Friends, and were being persecuted on account of their religion. They were willing to break ties with the mother land and seek freedom in America.

John Eldridge acting for Fenwick then proceeded to deed the land agreed upon to be later allotted and surveyed upon arrival in America. Roger Pedrick was a first purchaser as shown by the following. "On June 7, 1675, deeds were made by John Eldridge, of Parish of St. Paul, Shadwell, County of Middlesex, tanner and wife Elizabeth to John Smith of St. Paul's Parish for 1000 acres, Richard Morgan of St. Paul's 500 acres, Edward Matthews, of St. Paul's, 500 acres, and Roger Pedrick, of St. Paul's, Shadwell, lighterman, and wife, Rebecca, 1000 acres." There was one patent issued in London on above initial date by Fenwick to a merchant there for 2000 acres.

If the old parchment deed of Roger Pedrick could be located it might show if his was actually the first one drawn for the above first purchasers, Smith, Morgan, Matthews and Pedrick. His wife, Rebecca, was included as a joint purchaser and of the quartet the others were probably single. The next date of deeds was June 9, 1675, in London. Of the above names that of Roger Pedrick is the only one appearing in the list of first immigramnts on the Griffin and Mary.

On the same date patent was issued from John Fenwick to Vicesamus Nettleship, of London, citizen, salter, 2000 acres; 6-9-1675, to Thomas Clarke, London, 1000 acres; 6-10-1675, deed to Edmund Warner, London, citizen and poulterer, and John Mason, of Wincomb, County of Gloucester, farrier, 5000 acres each; 6-17-1675, to John Barkstead, London, 2000 acres, and the next day, 6-18, Barkstead again for 3000 acres. John Fenwick was prominent and lived in London and transacted his business there mostly with merchants, while Eldridge lived in Shadwell not many miles east and acted as his agent for people there. Now nearly all of these patents and deeds were issued to people of London or of the County of Middlesex which is contiguous to London to the north, east and southeast and the town of Shadwell is now a part of London proper.

It is relevant in proceeding with this history in order to add interest to include some information regarding the Quakers of that day, since it is probable that had not Fenwick and Pedrick, et al, become allied with the Society of Friends, no Pedrick genealogy would needs be searched.

The Quakers under George Fox who was born in 1624 originally called themselves "Professors" or "Children of the Light." It was Cervease Bennet the magistrate signing the Mittimus when Fox was first arrested at Derby who gave to the sect in derision the name of "Quakers" because Fox bade him and those present to "Tremble at the Word of the Lord." (Sewell's history of the people called Quakers.) Bennet, a sturdy Puritan and Roundhead, was not in the habit of trembling at anything. The name stuck; it is usually the case with sects and parties that they get their most enduring titles from the lips of opponents. (Scharff & Westcoat.) Edward Bourne Quaker in 1681 was closely confined in prison "for no evil except it be an evil to exhort, advise and persuade people to dwell together in love and to live in the fear of the Lord and to obey His voice by whom we are called upon to follow Peace and Holiness with all men, which is his call unto all without which no man shall see the Lord though they make mention of His name and call upon Him ever so often." (Sufferings of the Quakers, Besse.) Buckinghamshire 1666, an account of imprisonments of Quakers who refused to swear and were taken out of religious meetings amongst others, "John Fenwick, William Aldridge, besides several taken at meetings were committed on the Act for Banishment to wit;- Philip Ford, Samuel Budd, Richard Peader," etc. (Besse.)

The Quaker influence was strong in the formative days of New Jersey. Major John Fenwick serving as Major in the Parliamentary Army of England became a member of the Society of Friends in 1673-1674, and then bought a half interest in the New Jersey colony from Lord Berkeley. He associated with Edward Billynge, also a Friend, with the purpose of establishing an American home for the sect. In time disputes arose between them as to title and William Penn was agreed upon to arbitrate. He awarded Fenwick one-tenth with some money and Billynge nine-tenths. The latter later became embarrassed and sold his entire undivided tract to William Penn, Gawen Lawry and Nicholas Lucasall, Friends, in trust for the benefit of creditors. They afterwards became possessed of Fenwick's interest also. Fenwick, however, persisted in colonization efforts and in 1676 laid out "The Liberties of Cohansen and Alloways" and undertook the settlement of Salem. Finally Fenwick sold all his interests and practically disappears." (Lewis Publishing Co., New York, 1911.)

On a bronze plaque set in the wall of the Court House at Salem by the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New Jersey in 1825 are inscribed these words "To keep in perpetual remembrance the name of John Fenwick, 1618-1683, Major in the Army of Oliver Cromwell, 1648, Proprieter of the Salem 10th, founder of Salem, 1675; member of the Assembly of New Jersey, 1681. That said Colony and all the planters within the same may be secured in the Love of God and in that peace which becomes all our great professions of being Christians."

Fenwick executed deeds to various London merchants in June, 1675, and it is evident he set sail for America in July to take possession of his lands. He came as previously stated in the ship Griffin which sailed up Salem creek three miles where they disembarked and he named the spot Salem. It is difficult for us to vision now the aspect of the country at that time. Various accounts handed down show a veritable wilderness of forests and swamps, impassable except by Indian trails and abounding with wild animal life of every description even to wolf, panther, bear and buffalo. The waters swarmed with fish from the smallest to the sturgeon, porpoise and whale, while the air and the trees were filled with birds of every kind.

It is unlikely that Fenwick encountered but few white people as remnant of the previous New England settlement at this location. There were Mayflower descendants located in south Jersey who were whalemens from Long Island and were locating in the vicinity of Cape May. A few Swedes also had remained settled mostly in Gloucester County. Although in equity Fenwick was owner of the land, yet the Indians considered themselves the virtual owners and so Fenwick set about a second purchase from them of all the country now included in Salem and Cumberland counties. The first purchase was the lands included within Salem and Old Mans creeks which were called by the Indians Mosacksa and Forcus. The second purchase was for lands between Forcus creek or as it was afterwards called Game creek or Fenwick river now Salem creek and the Canahocken creek now called Cohansey and by some of the first settlers was called Cohansick from a Chief who resided on the south bank thereof. Third purchase from the Cohansey to the Wahatquenack now Morris river. The only information thus far obtained as to the consideration for this large turnover from the Indian Chiefs was four guns, powder and lead, ten and a half ankers of rum equal to about 336 gallons, some shirts, shoes and stockings, four blankets, 16 match coats, one piece of match coating and other English goods not mentioned. Purchases made in 1675-1676. (Published address by R. G. Johnson delivered at Salem in 1839.)

Now in 1676 another Declaration of Agreement was issued by Fenwick which was signed by purchasers of land in April of that year as follows: Edward Wade, John Smith, Richard Noble, John Adams, Samuel Nicholson, Hypolite Le Fevre, Edward Champnes, Richard Whiticar, William Malster and Robert Wade. Many of these names appended to these agreements in England in 1675 and at Salem in 1676 as issued by Fenwick persist to this day but very little of their history has been written. Some of the names have sunk into oblivion while the phraseology and spelling of some have changed with the course of time. Two of the above men were Fenwick's sons-in-law since it is written that Fenwick brought with him three daughters, one married to John Adams with three children, one married to Edward Champnes with two children and the other single but married Samuel Hedge after arrival here. He also brought ten servants.

It has been recorded that Elizabeth Adams, granddaughter of Fenwick, was disinherited by him for attaching herself to a Negro and from this illicit connection came the family of Goulds, of Gouldtown, east of Bridgeton. Now our able and genial historian, Frank H. Stewart, states that this is a myth which he has exploded and we are expectant of a treatise on this subject. "Believe it or not," the presumption has been entertained and continued no doubt from the fact that the colored population of that section belie very much in complexion or features a very close assimilation with members of the African race. A period of family search in that village might reveal much of interest to connect with the past.

Fenwick died and was buried in Upper Mannington where he lived about five miles above Salem where the hills begin to appear, in the family burying ground about 200 yards from the main road leading to the poor house near the line of that farm. No stone has been located. Through the instrumentality of various people and perhaps chiefly the zeal of Mr. Stewart a suitable monument has been placed on the highway near the place of his interment in commemoration of his achievement in the settling of Salem and Cumberland counties, with a fine type of English people from London and its environs. This monument was erected 7-4-1924 near the original "Fenwick's Grove."

No records have been found naming any other vessels than the Griffin and Mary as carrying these Quaker adventurers to New Jersey in 1675. It is likely that both boats sailed away at the same time in July of 1675. There have been several accounts of Roger Pedrick at variance with each other. One says Roger came in 1662 and the Indians burned his cabin. Another states that the ship Mary sailed from London in January 1675 with a number of English adventurers aboard including Robert Wade, Richard Whiticar, Roger Pedrick, Richard Johnson, Joseph Brown, John Test, Robert Windham and family, William Hancock and wife Isabella, John Butcher and several others. A few left the vessel at Fort Elfsborg. The vessel then proceeded up the river to Upland where the rest landed. The most of these people remained but some returned later on the ship to England.

I will not deny Rogers good company or the names of his shipmates but he did not sail at the time stated. Also Smith in his "Chester" states that Robert Wade came on the Griffin with Fenwick instead of the Mary with Pedrick. On page 18 of his book appears "Robert Wade, the earliest Quaker settler on the west side of the Delaware in 1676, and the first American host of William Penn in 1682 while still a resident of London he received a deed from John Fenwick, 6-28-1675, for 500 acres of land in New Jersey. Leaving his wife behind he came over with Fenwick in the ship Griffin arriving in the autumn of the same year. Dissatisfied with the wrangling that went on in Fenwick's colony Robert Wade came over the Delaware river to Upland and located on the plantation called "Printz Dorp" which he purchased, 3-21-1676, changing its name to Essex House. 6-25-1676 as one of the first or chief purchasers from Fenwick, Wade joined with him and others in an agreement of settlement and division of lands within Fenwick's colony which provided for the laying out of the towns of Salem and Cohansey. He wrote two letters to his wife in England about coming for her as he had become settled. Further information is contained in a letter from Roger Pedrick to his wife in England as follow: "From Delaware river the 14th day of the 14th (sic) month 1676 I am with Robert Wade who has bought a plantation and I am to have part with him which will come to a little above 26, 1" (26 lbs. 1 sh.) It would appear therefore that Robert Wade was of importance as a citizen of London and that Roger Pedrick was associated with him as a freeholder of Pennsylvania.

No doubt these people lived on shipboard until they had cleared land and erected cabins for their accommodation and it is surmised that most of them had been pondering location. The manner of allotment of land is not known but since there was abundance they no doubt had a free hand in selection. Rogers' deed and other English records give his occupation as lighterman, waterman and it is likely that he had already used keen judgment in deciding to have his land surveyed along Old Mans creek which was part of the upper boundary of the colony. This placed him within easy reach of Chester, already a settled town where he could have business and trade.

Evidence signifies that Fenwick was intent on exaltation and bent on Lordship over his domain and retention of supremacy over the settlers as per Wade's mention of wrangling as above and further in a letter Roger wrote to friends in England quoted in Mr. Sickler's recent history of Salem County as follows: "But John Fenwick would not set us out land except those that were concerned would set their hands to such papers as he drew up which would have been to ensnare us."

Now in regards to Old Mans creek called by the Indians "Kag-Koksiz-Achens-Sippus," sippus in the Delaware tribe language is the name for river or creek. The Dutch and Swedes called it Aldermans Killen; kil in Dutch and kilen in Swedish meaning the same as sippus. The early English settlers called it Berkeley river in honor of Lord Berkeley. Finally the present name came in vogue; Aldermans being translated to Old Mans.

Settlers kept coming but as showing the sparsity of population before 1700 there is a record which states that in 1698 the population of Salem County was but 326, Cape May 70, Burlington 302 and elsewhere in the province of New Jersey 134, a total of 832 of whom 266 were Quakers. Of course there were but a few counties at that time, Cumberland being set off from Salem, 1-19-1747-48. Over 30% of the population being at that time Quakers it is evident that their influence was strong. In Cape May County the 70 enumerated were whalemens and their families from Long Island at Southampton who had come there from Lynn in Massachusetts Bay and were Mayflower Pilgrim descendants as recounted by the late Rev. Paul Sturtevant Howe in his splendid book of 1920 "Mayflower Pilgrim Descendants in Cape May County, New Jersey." The writer's great-grandfather, Jacob Leaning, born 10-31-1771, appears in that book on Page 105.

It was not long after Fenwick's landing that the Quakers organized religious meetings. "The first religious meeting of the Society of Friends was at the house of Isaac Nicholson on West Broadway in Salem in 1676. He in 1681 deeded his 16-acre lot as above "for the use and benefit of Salem Monthly Meeting forever for a meeting house and other purposes." (Cushing & Sheppard.) The old graveyard with its huge historic oak and its modest head stones still remain there as marking the burial place of many of our forebears, a dedication to the incipency of our present being.

Some time later as southern New Jersey became more settled we find quoted in "New Jersey as a Colony and as a State" (Lee 1902). "To the southward lay a line of plantations upon the sea coast of Cape May County, the houses usually low and rambling. Crossing the line into Salem County, a type of life distinctly Virginian. In Salem are found stately houses; those of the Sharps, Carpenters, Halls, Sinnicksons and Cripps. At Pilesgrove were the Van Meters, Newkirks, Dubois, Sparks and Garrisons. At Friesburg a colony of Germans of glass house industry. Lower Alloways creek the Moores, Sayres and Hancocks. The Hancocks of the Bridge and the Pedricks and Matlacks are a few of the familiar families of the region."

Appropos of the above "Salem stately houses," there is much that could be ascertained regarding the quaintness of those old solid brick structures so numerous in Salem which always attract the attention and of the many large and substantial brick farm houses that were built on the plantations all about Salem over a century ago. Their history is mostly unknown to the people of the present generation.

Much more could be written; a volume could be composed from records compiled in the past regarding the settlement of Salem County and of Fenwick and the Quakers so closely interwoven with the history of the Pedrick family. More time and money for a wider search could consolidate those subjects into an interesting narrative. This book, however, is chiefly genealogical, following a family from its beginning in America and enumerating all of its descendants so far as they can be ascertained within the space allotted and the funds in hand for its publication. Limited resources proscribe it necessarily as a work far from exhaustive and especially since the period covered is 262 years, and now reaches down into the eleventh generation of Pedricks in America.

In my work of two years ago, in the publication of the Shoemaker genealogy of Gloucester and Salem Counties in New Jersey, I did not think then that this early I would be able to produce another volume of like kind dealing with a family that reaches back in New Jersey history almost 100 years farther than in my first search. This necessarily imposed great difficulties in order to dig up the subject matter and details required to present the matter in a comprehensive light. Naturally Bible records back of 1800 are rarely located as are cemetery records also, of those who have died before 1750. No one living knows much of what happened 75 years ago and very little that had been written by these early families about their life or offspring has been preserved. In those days when there were few schools and little education many could not write at all and simply made their mark on legal documents, so it is evident there was not much writing done.

The vital statistics at Trenton are fragmentary as regards Colonial times—and in fact they have very little of it back of 1846. The various County Clerks and Surrogates also have but few records of births, marriages and deaths. Various searchers have collected much of this from many sources including newspaper files most of which can be referred to in the Historical Societies which have become veritable storehouses for history of the past. From wills, administrations, division of lands and deed books much information can be gleaned and when many days of copying from these various sources has been done and the work of assorting and distributing and connecting the manuscript has been begun the assembling reminds one of piecing together the blocks in a puzzle until our picture is complete.

A picture puzzle is assembled together frequently in parts and the color scheme often aids in its completion, but connecting different family lines back to a common ancestor has only to do with names and dates and places and many similar names run concurrently and to link them into their proper place is often difficult and perplexing.

This is why no doubt some parts of family history has been published inaccurately; the genealogist found himself against a stone wall, as the saying is, so drew his own conclusion and it was put down as fact.

In this present work where I have corrected matter found in Barber & Howe of 1833, Huston of 1876 or Cushing & Sheppard of 1884 such differences I have well substantiated. That history which is only tradition should be set down as such where there has been no verification.

It is thus in comparing Bibles and cemetery stones often at variance and judgment has to be used as to preference for reliability. Thus an old Carey Bible of the 1800 period may show a family record written in a careful manner at the time of each birth, marriage and death with dates all subsequent to the date of the publishing of the Bible which would be given authority over inscriptions on head stones. A Bible of 1850, however, with records back to 1825 all written in the same hand may indicate the inditing of the records long years afterwards when memory fails to serve accurately and the cemetery records may in such cases have more dependability. Wrong dates also exist on head stones through carelessness as between family members and monumental dealers such a case only recently my attention was called to.

The work of establishing some lines back over 250 years is not easy. Where an ancestor sells out, pulls up stakes and decides to go West which was probably about the period of 1800 in Ohio or Indiana and known as the "Miame Country" and takes most of his family along it is often difficult to follow him. Again there have been numerous Johns but in most cases their wives had different given names. I had one of these traced properly as I thought until I happened on his old Bible which upset and contradicted me in the statement that he was the son of Samuel and Elizabeth, and then I heard a voice calling "Samuel, where art thou?" but it was the voice of your humble servant.

Another bad situation arose amongst many Josephs and not only with Joseph but three of the name all having a middle letter D and all living contemporaneously. Fortunately one had a wife, Sarah, one a wife, Anne, and the other no wife at all; each sold land requiring the wife's joinder through which my problem was solved. Numerous descendants have scattered far and wide, some of whom have made unsuccessful attempt to trace their lineage. The inclination, however, is creditable and seems to follow the ambition to rise above the mediocre. I am convinced that with more time and persistence the whole Pedrick family could be traced nearly 100 per cent complete.

Salem County, as the seat of the family's first settlement in New Jersey, still contains the most descendants; has records of over 60 wills and administrations and about 1000 real estate transactions. As the family multiplied along Old Mans creek some sold their inheritance and settled in Lower Penns Neck and about Salem. They then reached out into Cumberland and Gloucester Counties, the latter having record of 13 wills and administrations and the former 10 and Cape May, Atlantic, Camden and Burlington three wills each, and Essex, Hunterdon and Middlesex one each, while the northern tier of counties show none. In Philadelphia, where a flow of all families follow, there are records of 17 wills and administrations the earliest in 1874 of those who had come there from New Jersey and about Wilmington, Del., and Chester, Pa., where they had first migrated across the river. Then, also, there are records of those who have gone to distant places which have not been looked up; but bear in mind this only takes into account the name of Pedrick; the girls who married and took other names are just as much a part of the family and their Court records would naturally double the above number. No search of the wills and administrations of these other names has been made.

In old Philadelphia directories the name of Pedrick does not appear until after 1800 and for years just a few entries. The directory of 1858 lists 19 Pedrick and Peddrick. There were three druggists, Washington F., Charles W., and John; two potters, John and William, a ship chandler, Samuel P., a ship carpenter, Alfred L., a cordwainer, Thomas, John, a tanner, John, a varnisher, John, a paper stainer, William, a hatter, Henry, a shoemaker, George L., a plasterer, Michael, a tailor (he worked on the same board with John Wanamaker), William, a clerk, Silas, a captain, and Elihu, gentleman. It is evident, therefore, they had gotten into all kinds of business and work. There seems to have been no great partiality to city life since the 1936 directory lists now after 80 years only twice the above quoted number.

An interesting study of family lineage is the subject of fecundity. Roger left but four children, all sons; of these John left 10, Thomas 6, Philip³, and Michael 0 children. Many of Roger's grandchildren had families of 6 to 10. About the period of 1840-1860 larger families seemed the rule emphasized in the Dolbow line particularly when Mary Pedrick married a Dolbow; they had 14 children and one of these married and had 14 and one of the latter married and had 14, while another of the same flock married and had 12. In the seventh, eighth and ninth generation more of the Pedrick girls had large families than the boys and the Pedrick name is therefore becoming less prevalent.

By keeping everlastingly at it I now present this accomplishment to the numerous Pedrick descendants here represented with the hope that this permanent record may be useful for reference and that some interest may be found in its pages. I trust that each family will secure copies to pass down to their children and their grandchildren for their benefit in the years to come.

"Of all the affections of man, those which connect him with Ancestry are among the most natural and generous. They enlarge the sphere of his interests, multiply his motives to virtue and give intensity to his sense of duty to generations to come by the perception of obligation to those which are past."—Quincy.

THE PEDRICK FAMILY

A search regarding the name has not revealed much of consequence. The various works on Heraldry and British family names such as Burkes, Matthews, etc., do not make mention of it as spelled. The nearest equivalents are Petrick, Petrock, Peddie, Pedder, Pedlar, and Pedley. The vital statistics at Trenton reveal the following names in recent years besides that of Pedrick and mostly of Italian birth or parentage; Pede, Peden, Pedie, Pedora, Pedoro, Pedano, Pedrino, etc., and one Italian family I visited in Philadelphia had anglicized their name fully to Pedrick.

As regards the spelling of the name, the records copied from England give it as Pedrick, and the present London directory of many of them living there have it spelled as above so far as ascertained. The original Roger also spelled and wrote his name this way. Some of his descendants added another D to their name which has persisted to this day while here and there we find occasionally Pedric without the K. Some of the early clerks of record have it in the books as Peddrick and Pedderick and the will of the first Thomas is copied Pedric as signed although the original if located may show it Pedrick.

The only English records discovered regarding the family are a few that have been copied and repose in the Archives of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania and these refer only to Roger the subject of this history at its starting point. His forbears could no doubt be revealed from a search in England but are unknown here. There has been little search heretofore, the most appearing in the Justice collection in above Society Archives. He gathered together what he could find on record about the family no doubt for some client which is hardly more than a preliminary exhibit and not very enlightening. His chart and sketch, however, has required considerable effort and the outline of his exhibit is substantially correct. He evidently did not extend his work beyond the Archives and therefore could not go very far down the line.

At the present time numerous people of the name are living in and about London. Inquiry from ten of these elicited but one reply from a Mrs. Pedrick who stated that she was in a position "of obtaining information." A reply to that letter brought no further response. Experience has proven mainly that correspondence on matters genealogical is unsatisfactory here as well as abroad. Either people are averse to writing or not interested re stirpes. Anxiously now I am awaiting replies from descendants, some far distant and I have little hope of including their history intelligently.

Information available substantiates but two Pedrick arrivals in the United States in early days and strange as it may seem there are no records of later Pedrick immigrants as distinguished from other families who have kept coming from time to time to this day. The family may not have been large in numbers or there may be some authority in the tradition in Marblehead, Mass., that it had been a name assumed. The other Pedrick above mentioned according to Marblehead tradition as given me by their Historical Society and Mrs. Stearns, of the Pedrick House in that city states that a John Pedrick came with wife, Miriam, about 1664, bought land and settled on the "Great Neck." He had a family of nine of whom there has been a partial tracing. It is also stated that there were others of the name in Marblehead even before 1664 but no full history of the family there has been worked out. Some of these descendants became prominent as merchants in Marblehead and as sea captains. A major, John Pedrick, was an ardent patriot during Revolutionary times and a prosperous merchant having at one time as many as twenty-five vessels engaged in foreign trade. He built about 1756 a Colonial mansion with lumber imported from England known to this day as the "Major John Pedrick House," a noted landmark now commercialized by Mrs. Lila Woodbury Stearns, the present owner, who emphasizes the name in her literature with photographs of its unique Colonial furnishings. Many Pedricks have stopped there when touring from different parts of the country. Most of these have descended from the New Jersey Roger and naturally his name has been brought into the picture.

A connection persists between the two branches but no one as yet has solved the riddle.

The late William B. de las Casas, of Boston, made an exhausted study of the subject and his manuscript was willed to a cousin in Washington, D. C. As a Pedrick descendant he was much interested but as I have not seen his work I do not know its content; however, he did not connect the two branches.

There was a Roger Pedrick among the Pedricks of Marblehead or Salem, Mass., before 1664 substantiated by a record in the Salem, Mass., Court under date of 1653 of John Pedrick and Roger Pedrick being before the Court for fighting to the drawing of blood with Carl Mansfield. The case against John and Roger was dismissed. Now this indicates that the probability is that the father of the New Jersey Roger or other of his family had previously visited Marblehead and the supposition is that he returned to England since the name has not been later handed down in Massachusetts.

The tradition in Marblehead regarding the assumption of name is in this wise. The first John Pedrick came of a branch of the family of the Earl of Sussex of which one had been in danger because he had sat in the Chamber and voted for the execution of Charles I, and that he assumed the name of Pedrick to conceal his identity. The only Regicide who was of a family which had borne this title was a Boudrier, who had a son, John, as to both of whom there is no record of death or burial except in "Noble Regicides" that he, the father, "Sat down and died." So it may be that the first John in Marblehead was this son. His name and mark appears in a petition to the General Court in 1678 and it is claimed that this mark is in a form which suggests a "scrivener's skill" so that he possibly may have been the John Bourdrier who was educated at Oxford and at one time entered at Lincolns Inn Fields as a student at law. Credit is hereby extended to Hannah Tutt, Secretary of the Historical Society of Marblehead, who has generously supplied me with information.

ROGER PEDRICK

ROGER PEDRICK was born near London about 1645 and married 3-27-1669 REBEKAH HOLEMAN at Radcliffe Friends Meeting in England. He dwelt in the Parish of St. Paul, Shadwell, County of Middlesex. This county is contiguous to the north, northeast, east and southeast of the city of London with the town of Shadwell lying near the city limits no doubt now included in the city proper. Previous to 1669 he had connected with the Society of Friends as indicated by his place of marriage. He was a lighterman by trade and probably had his own business in the unloading of merchant vessels. The Quakers at that time were rapidly gaining in numbers, influence and prestige since many prominent people were becoming members of the sect which also increased the opposition and persecution of their members. From 1648 forward they were prosecuted with severe fines and sentences. At the time of the West Jersey purchase in 1673 William Penn was yet in England and was doing missionary work for the Quakers. He went to Germany in 1671 and again in 1677 with eight others including George Fox and preached in a barn. It was then two years since Fenwick and Pedrick had left England in the ships Griffin and Mary along with many other Quakers to seek a haven in America. There is no mention of association of these men with Penn previous to their departure. William Penn's father had been of great usefulness to the Crown of England and when he died William inherited a claim against the Crown for 16,000 pounds. When he became interested in America he perceived a way to cancel this claim at an advantage to himself by bargaining for a slice of America. In this way England was glad to rid herself of the claim without money consideration for as much land as Penn wanted and he therefore secured Pennsylvania, which in territory was about as much as England and Ireland's combined area. The grant was consummated in 1681 and Penn soon left to take possession leaving agents in England to act for him. When the astounding news reached Kresheim in Germany that William Penn who had come there and preached to the humble citizens was the proprietor of a vast domain larger than the whole Palatine and that he had pledged the fullest liberty of conscience to all comers they were eager to go there. The settlement of Germantown by these people soon followed.

In those days all vessels were sailing craft and the time of passage was long and arduous and it took over two months for passage across the ocean. The arrivals were mostly in September, many in August, October and November, but none in March or April; six pounds passage money was the fare and it was no small sum for many to get together.

It is evident then that the Griffin and Mary left London at or about the same time in July arriving at Salem in September and Roger Pedrick set about securing his land. The conveyance is recorded in Book I, Salem Deeds, Page 100. The original may be in existence somewhere and was drawn in England on parchment or sheepskin probably by John Eldridge and wife to Roger Pedrick and wife for 1000 acres out of Fenwick's land, and reads in part: "To him and her forever yielding and paying therefore yearly and every year the yearly rent of one ear of Indian corn on the 9th and 20th day of the 7th month called September if demanded. Have granted, bargained and sold and by these presents does grant bargain and sell unto the said Roger Pedrick and Rebekah his wife and their heirs and assigns of the said Roger Pedrick forever. One thousand acres of land to be taken out of, sold, found and surveyed out of all such part of the Moyete or the one-half part of the tract of land within the Province of New Caseria or New Jersey in America as John Franklin, late of Benfield, within the County of Berks within the Kingdom of England Esquire and Chief Proprietor of the one Moyete or half part of the said tract of land hath assigned to him and his heirs forever which is hereafter to be called Fenwick's Colony. And also all rivers, rivolets, mines, minerals, quarries, woods, fishings, fowlings, hawkings, huntings, and all the Royalties, profits, franchises privileges, commodities, hereditaments and whatsoever the said 1000 acres belonging with their and every of their appurtenances and all the estate, right, title, interest, property claim and demand whatsoever of the said John Eldridge and Elizabeth, his wife," etc., etc.

The survey of this land which took place soon does not appear in the Salem deed books.

A journal of the daily events of these people at that time if it had been handed down would be most interesting now.

Since the whole of Salem and Cumberland Counties had been bought for 1000 Lbs. in 1673 it can be realized that land in that day had little money value and while Rogers' deed quoted as a yearly rental two ears of Indian corn if demanded each year, yet there is a statement somewhere that the consideration was 50c per acre.

He then became interested in the country across the river as previously stated as a joint purchaser with Robert Wade at Upland for 26 Lbs. 1 Sh.

He had one other real estate transaction over there as per Smiths Chester P-114-117. Quote: "Tydables (taxables) Delaware County, Pa. 1677 Place "Marr Kil" Jan Hendrickson of Delowar River husbandman appeared in Court and then and there did acknowledge a certayne deed or transport unto Roger Pedrick of all the said Jan Hendrickson's Right, Tytle, and Interest of all the land and appurtenances Lying and being on the west side of Delowar River called and knowne by the name of marities hoeck being granted and confirmed by Pattent from the Right Honorable Governor Andros bearing date the 28th of March 1676 unto the six possessors thereof Viz;- Charles Jansen, Cole Raessen, hans Oelsen, oele Neelson, hans hofman and him the said Jan Hendrickson and containing in the whole 1000 acres of land which said deed was signed and sealed and delivered by the said Jan Hendrickson in the presence of Johannes de-haes and Carrell Jansen and bears date ye 18th day of June A. D. 1678." Roger Pedrick sold his rights in the above soon after to William Hewes.

Roger had one other real estate purchase in 1679 in New Jersey as follows appearing in Salem Deeds book B-P-126. Roger Pedrick 140 acres. "To all people to whom this present writing shall come;- Wm. Penn Proprietor, Governor of the province of Pa. and the territory thereunto annexed and Proprietor of Salem First in the province of West New Jersey & C. Samuel Hodge of said Sedgefield, John Smith of Smithfield & Richard Tindall of London Borough in the and Province aforesaid Sendeth Greeting. Whereas John Fenwick of Fenwicks Colony Esquire late proprietor of Salem 10th in the Province of West Jersey aforesaid deceased, Did by his last Will and Testament Nominate and appoint William Penn, Samuel Hodge, John Smith and Richard Tindall aforesaid to be his Executors as by his last Will and Testament being upon record reference being thereto will at large appear. Doth hereby acquit the said Roger Pedrick his heirs and assigns forever by these presents, do bargain and sell one hundred and forty acres of land marsh swamp and Cripple hereafter to be called Peddricks Neck situated lying &c. Beginning at the mouth of Ouldmans Creeke in the 10th and province afsd and butted and bounded as followeth Viz;-Beginning at the head of a Creek running out of Ould Mans Creeke &c. &c. (The writing is so poor it is impossible to decipher some of it.) Containing one hundred and forty acres as by a certificate by the hand of Richard Tindall Surrogate Lord bearing date 18th day in October 1679." No consideration was named for this land but in an account of Quit Rents of 1690 an assessment of one shilling was made against the above 140 acres.

Roger owning land across the river and being associated with Wade who also had come there was probably resident at Chester a part of his time. (Smiths Chester.) Quote: "We find him a resident and taxable of Marcus Hook and the records of Chester Monthly Meeting show that his daughter, Rebecca, by his wife of same name, was born at Marcus Hook on the 14th day of 7th month (September) in 1678, the earliest authenticated date of birth within the limits of Pennsylvania where both parents were the natives of England that has come under the notice of the author."

"Roger Pedrick was empannelled on the first jury under the proprietary government; he was a Friend and refused to take an oath before the Upland Court in 1678, although he was not an active member of that Society. He came from the vicinity of London where he had suffered persecution for attending the meetings of the Quakers."

The Chester Court records discloses that the case called in 1681 when Roger Pedrick was empannelled as a juryman was that of Thomas Nossiter, plaintiff, against Andreas Nealson, defendant, on account of assault and battery with the result that "The Jury finds for ye plaintiff and give him five pounds and his cost of suite."

Roger varied his time while becoming established, between Salem and Chester and six months after landing was one of the signers of "The Consessions & Agreements of the Proprietors, Freeholders & Inhabitants of the Province of West New Jersey in America." This was written in 44 chapters and signed 3-3-1676 by 151 representative settlers.

Between September, 1675 and 1677, Roger Pedrick was adjusting himself toward the advent of his family from England. He probably arranged in Chester for the building of a house on his plantation or with the help of Indians built a log house. Otherwise he may have been resident at Chester for some time after his wife came over. He wrote to his wife in the interim as per extract already quoted and I have been told of two other letters or copies of them on file in America but time has limited my looking them up. His wife and son, John, born in England, came undoubtedly in 1677 and joined him in September. The English records and the Chester records establish the following statistics:

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK was born in or near London about 1645. He married at Radcliffe Friends Meeting 3-27-1669 REBEKAH HOLEMAN.

Issue:

2-1 JOHN PEDRICK. Born 2-7 or 17-1671 at Shadwell, Middlesex County, England.

2-2 A still-born child, 5-21-1673.

2-3 WILLIAM PEDRICK. Born 4-7 or 17-1674 at Shadwell and died 11-26-1675 aged 18 months. Roger then in America two months.

2-4 REBEKAH PEDRICK. Born at Marcus Hook, Pa., 7-14-1678, recorded in Chester Friends Minutes. There is no further record found about this child which probably died in infancy.

2-5 THOMAS PEDRICK. Born 2-14-1681, at Marcus Hook, Pa. Recorded in Chester Quaker Minutes. He was baptized in St. Paul's Church there when he became adult.

2-6 MICHAEL PEDRICK. Born about 1683. (No record found.)

2-7 PHILIPP PEDRICK. Born about 1685. (No record found.)

ROGER PEDRICK made his will, 3-14-1692, and died in September, 1692, when but 47 years of age having lived in America just 17 years. His place of burial unknown.

His widow, REBEKAH, married secondly at Salem Friends Meeting, 11-26-1696, ANDREW THOMPSON.

ROGER PEDRICK'S will as copied in Book A—Pages 91-92—at Trenton (original not there):

“In the Name of God Amen;-I ROGER PEDDRICK being weak in body but of perfect memory, blessed be the Lord, do make this my last will and testament as followoth:

Salem Wills Book A-P-91-Inventory. A true and perfect Inventory of the goods and chattels of Roger Peddrick of Peddricks Neck in Salem Co. late deceased taken and appraised by us. IMPoms.

4 oxen, 3 steeres, one bull, 24 lbs. 7 cowes, 4 calves 20 lbs. 4 two yearoulds & 2 yearlings 10 lbs. Two horses, 2 mayres & 4 colts 10 lbs. 6 sheep & 3 swyne 6 lbs. Bedding and furniture belonging 10 lbs. Living apparrelle 8 lbs. Pewter, potts, & other lumber stuff 20 lbs. Total 108 lbs. The goods above written were appraised by us the 29th day of September 1692, Richard Lawrence, William Hewes.

When Roger Pedrick died at 47 he had become a successful farmer on a considerable scale as indicated by his inventory having in use 4 oxen, 2 horses and 2 mares. Four horses and two colts appraised at 10 pounds or $50 shows the cheapness of things at that time. Farm implements and grain as well as household supplies seem to have been neglected by the appraisers. Since it was September the crops had mostly been gathered which at that time was mostly grain. The day of the sweet potato and tomato had not come. Neither does he seem to have gone much into cattle raising as many were doing at that time in Cape May County considerably on the beaches along the coast.

"Excellence is an art won by training and habituation: we do not act rightly because we have virtue or excellence, but we rather have these because we have acted rightly: we are what we repeatedly do.

Excellence then, is not an act but a habit: the good of a man is a working of the soul in the way of excellence in a complete life: for as it is not one swallow or one fine day that makes a spring, so it is not one day or a short time that makes a man blessed and happy."

ARISTOTLE.

PART ONE

JOHN PEDRICK

2-1 JOHN PEDRICK was born in or near London, probably the town of Shadwell 2-7 or 17-1671 and died at Pedricksburg, now Pedricktown, Salem Co., N. J., in April 1729 at the age of 58. No place of burial known. He was but four years of age when his father immigrated to America and but six when his mother brought him to America. He was 22 years of age at his father's death and was just ten years older than Thomas, his brother, the next living child of the family. He was raised on the family plantation and no doubt after his father's death in 1693 became the head of the household.

His wife was ELIZABETH. Her surname, date of birth, marriage or death has not been found. After her husband's death she married, 8-27-1729, JOHN OAKFORD.

He inherited 400 acres of land of the 1140 which his father had purchased and carried on with his mother while the younger children were being raised.

The only recorded activities of people of those times are those found in the minutes of the Men's and the Women's Friends meetings. There is no mention of a Pedrick name before the marriage of his mother to Andrew Thompson in 1696. Eleven years pass before the next mention of Pedrick, when the minutes state: "This meeting appointed boniamen Acton to Speake to William Hues and John Pedrick to appear the next meeting to give thair Reasons Consarning John belangey why friends may not Give him a Sertifecat as a friend." Then 12 more years pass before the next mention of Pedrick when Mary Pedrick married Wm. Hanby, all of which indicates the family was not active as Quakers at this time. The same year, however, I quote, 3-30-1720: "Lave is given by this meeting that the friends at Piles Grove Should have a meeting att Piles grove every other first day during the summer time and to begin the 2 first days in the foyrth month" "thereas att this meeting there is accation of another Suburscription therefore friends Subscribes as followeth." 21 names following including John Pedrick, 10 shillings. He was an appraiser of estate of Thos. Gilpin, Penns Neck, 8-10-1697 and witness to will of Owen Sweeney 1-9-1728.

His 400 acres "at ye first landing upon the Creek bordering on Pedricks Neck" was no doubt the landing which is now at Pedricktown where their dwelling house stood later superseded by the present Justice brick home. From here the creek meanders down seven miles to the Delaware river through the marsh or meadows with no other high or "fast" land along its lower side. The other landing spoken of was probably what is today known as "Wrights wharf" farther up the creek.

It may be noted in passing that while most all of the people then settled hereabout were "of the people called Quakers" and they all affirmed in legal matters, yet they were more "easy" of speech than probable Friends discipline brought about later when thee and thou became so frequent. As Friends meeting houses became more numerous in the third generation of Pedricks it is then we find members of the family very active in the work which established schools and planted burying grounds and looked after the wants of the poor.

His original will is in Trenton Archives Q-201 and is copied verbatim below but it conveys not here the old way of making the letters in words often difficult to decipher. The capitalizing and spelling, however, has been painstakingly copied.

"the tenth day of the twelf month called february in the Year of our Lord 1728-29 I John Pedrick of penns neck in the County of Salem in west new Jersey being sick and weak of body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be to the Lord, I do make and ordain this my last will and testament in manor and form following.

IMPRIMOS;-I give unto my som mikoll a sertain tract of land that my son John bult a hous uppon beginning at the mouth of bever Creek and so up the said creek to the ferne Run and so uppon a strat line to the old line and as many perch further as will make it as brod as the said land is at the creek from the sluice to bever Creek with all the swamp and meddo belonging to the said land: only ten acres I reserve lying below peter delashemat to him his heirs and assigns forever.

Item:-I give unto my son william my new dwelling hous (no doubt the brick dwelling long since the Justice property near Pedricktown wharf) and plantation bounding uppon mikell with all the woodland and meddo thereunto belonging to his heirs and assigns forever.

but my wife is to have the whole Command of the said plantation till such time the said william shall arrive to the age of twenty one and my will is that he live with his mother till then and my will is that he the said william shall maintain his brother Jeremiah during his life but if the said Jeremiah dont like to live with william he the said william is to pay for his bord elsewhere and if the said Jeremiah should die within tenn years after the plantation comes into his hands the said william must give unto his three brothers Jacob, Thomas and Samuel five pounds a pece or five pounds a pece to as many of them as are live and com to the age of twenty one but in case that william shold dy before he come to age to reserv the plantation then Jacob is to have the same in like manor as is above said.

Item;-I give unto my son Joseph the Remandor part of that land which was formerly thomas nossotors lying above the ferne Run and joining to bever Creek and ten acres of meddo lying below peter delashemats to him his heirs and Assigns forever.

Item;-I give unto my wel beloved wife all my movable estate what soever and to her dissposol but my will is that she do brood up the small Children and give them sum scoling and when they are fitt to be put to trade shee is to put them to prentic as she shall think fit and cloth them fit for to goo to prentic.

Item;-I give unto my daster mary hanbe five shillings. I lick wise constitut make and ordaine my dearly beloved wife and my daster sarah and my son mikoll my only and sole executors of this my last will and testament and I do hereby uterly disalow Revoke and Disanull all and every other former testaments wills legacies and executors by me in any ways before this time named written and bequaethed. Ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the Day and year above written. Signed sealed Published pronounced and delivered by the said as his last will and testament in the presence of us the subscribers.

John Pedric

The witnesses were Thomas Hewes, Mary Hewes and Wm. Hewes and it is likely that John's wife was Elizabeth Hewes. As regards the Pedrick name or manner of its first spelling. Roger always used or signed his name as above written. Other people of that time in writing it often used or copied it using the double D. It will be noted that John signed his will omitting the last letter K which may be attributed to dim eyesight or signing when very ill in bed when hardly able to write at all. But for the most part later descendants have spelled the name as it is now used. There are a few even now that continue the use of the double D. But to continue with the probating of John's will.

In the light of present-day prices the comparison is interesting after 208 years, also as enlightening us with the sparse comforts and conveniences of living in those days. There was a crudeness in outfit and meagerness in general of those things which science has since wrought for the agriculturist.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK

2-1 JOHN PEDRICK was born 2-7 or 17-1671 near London and died April 1729 in America at the age of 58. He married probably about 1702 ELIZABETH (HEWES most likely). As previously stated she married secondly 8-27-1729 John Oakford. No place of burial of either is known. As named in his will he left behind his wife and ten children living of whom Jacob, Thomas and Samuel were aged 14, 12 and 10 years. His will indicates that an elder son, Jeremiah, was defective and there is no record of this son later; he probably died soon after his father. The dates and sequency of births of his children are placed as accurately as records indicate.

3-1 MARY PEDRICK married in 1720 William Hanby. She was the only Mary Pedrick in New Jersey living at that time.

In the minutes of the Men's Friends monthly meetings at Salem appears 6-29-1720. "Att this meeting came William Hanby and Mary Pedrick and proposed their intentions of marriage to Each other and the sd William Hanby produced a certificate of Clareness in Relation of Marriage." 7-26-1720 William and Mary came a second time; consent given. "This meeting appoints Andrew Thompson (her grandmother's second husband) and Edward Huse (Hewes) to attend the sd marriage to see things decently maniged and mak report to the next meeting." This is the first marriage of a grandchild of Roger Pedrick and if this Hanby family was searched down to the present time the material might form a book in itself, every descendant of whom has the Pedrick blood through above Mary. No work in regards to this has been done.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-1 JOHN

3-2 MIKELL PEDRICK was born about 1707 and died 3-27-1776 age 69. (Trenton Archives). He married 11-19-1728 ANNE E. ROBESON at Swedes Church, Wilmington, Del., out of Friends meeting, and apparently gave little attention to the Quakers until 12-31-1759 when he brought a paper to Salem men's meeting condemning his outgoing in marriage which was read and received. He was no doubt received in "Unity" since he immediately became active. The same date on marriage Com. for John Vauclain and Mgt. Oakford indicating that couple had influence in his action and yet five years later 2-25-1765 he was appointed to serve "Testification" against above Vauclain and also John Hews. 12-25-1769 Appointed to serve "testification against John Cripps outgoing in marriage, neglect to attend meetings, horse racing and other disorders." 1-29-1770 he reported the above notice served, which covers all of his official activities reported in Friends minutes. Other activities include 11-6-1744 on Inventory Cornelius Cornelenson, 4-26-1748 bondsman Grace Buckley widow intestate, 6-9-1749 a debtor estate of John Eaton Pennsneck, 11-13-1759 on Inv. Thos. Elwell Pennsneck, 2-17-1768 on Inv. Francis Miles Pennsneck 933 lbs."

There were only two Michael Pedricks in early days; the above and his uncle whom no doubt he was named for and of whom not much has been learned. His father's will states: "I give unto my son 'mikoll' a certain tract of land that my son John bult a hous uppon beginning at the mouth of bever Creek," etc. The above house evidently the one that stood near Beaver creek bridge and later burned down. This property was not part of the original 1000-acre purchase which did not go as far east as Beaver creek. William Penn, et al, had taken over Fenwick's unsold land and sold to William Fleetwood 500 acres east of Rogers' purchase of which 300 acres was sold by Fleetwood to Thomas Nossiter, 11-13-1689, and the heirs of Nossiter sold the same to John Pedrick, 11-6-1716, who in turn willed it to above Michael, who in turn sold 150 acres of the tract to George Lawrence in 1749, Lawrence 124 acres to Badcock 1764, same to Eldridge 1765 and Eldridge 108 $\frac{3}{4}$ acres to Harker in 1780. Harker willed to son, Joseph, 1783; Joseph to George Wiser, 1798, and George to his son, James, and then James, 4-23-1839, sold to David Shoemaker this land, the grandfather of the writer. Then Michael Pedrick bought land in Lower Penns Neck.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-1 JOHN

3-2 MICHAEL PEDRICK;-Now in 1753 he stood seized in common with Jos. Wright undivided land in three tracts of land and marsh in Penns Neck adjoining each other which February 2 a deed was recorded specifying each part. One plantation known by the name of "Rich Neck" estimated at 110 acres, one other adjoining thereto containing by estimate 100 acres and one other being marsh cont. by est. (after a deduction of 20 acres heretofore sold to William Mecum) of 100 acres. "It is now to the land a Perpetual Portion & Division shall be had & made between the said parties of and in the several plantations. Tracts of land, Hereditaments and Premises above routed, connected, concluded and agreed by and between the said parties to these presents in Manner and form following ,that is to say" Joseph Wright is granted the Western Moiety or one-half part of aforesaid "beginning at a stake standing in the line that bounds the sd Rich Neck for the 100 acres called Shoots between the houses of them the sd Jos. Wright and Michael Pedrick and runs from thence" joining Michael in the line of "Milcolm" Island, then to a stake in the Finns Point Line then along that line to Finns Point Head Line, then joining on Vacant Land to a stump by the Cranberry Pond supposed corner of sd Rich Neck, etc., etc., to the beginning containing 179 acres of land and marsh. Then the other half is described which is bounded Milcolm Island, Wm. Mecums line, Shoots tract and Baldrigges Creek signed Michael Pedrick in presence of Jedediah Allen and George Trenchard. No doubt a similar deed is recorded as signed by Joseph Wright.

Now as regards the marsh or meadow in that vicinity we find, 2-16-1770, "Notice is hereby given to all persons whom it may concern that we the subscribers intend to petition the Assembly at their next sitting for an act to be passed for draining the meadow on Salem creek down the said creek and the river Delaware. The bank to begin at Ephraim Lloyds fast land on Salem creek down the said creek to Delaware river then along said river to Finns Point to join the land of Thomas Newark, Michael Pedrick, Peter Bilderback, Ephraim Lloyd, Israel Redstreak, Mary Tuffts, William Adams and Thomas Wright." These are all contemporary families of Michael Pedrick's time resident in Penns Neck.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-1 JOHN

3-2 MICHAEL PEDRICK;-In 1778 the New Jersey Legislature passed a law authorizing the owners of meadow and swamp land to form themselves into bodies corporate and to bank and drain the same. Under this law there have been organized in the county 71 meadow companies. (Cushing & Sheppard, 1883.) Of the above number Lower Penns Neck had 17.

Michael died the year of the American Declaration of Independence. His will was drawn just previous to his death, 8-23-1776, proven 9-9-1776, filed at Trenton No. 1700 and copied in book 18 page 11. "Be it remembered that I Michael Pedrick of Penns Neck in the County of Salem in the province of New Jersey yoeman, being weak of body but of sound and disposing mind and memory do make this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following viz:- 1st;- I Will the payments of all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid. Item;-I give to my son John Pedrick the plantation I now live on, to him his heirs and assigns forever, except the fields Samuel Pedrick holds and five acres of woodland joining on Wm. Mecum's line and two lots of marsh the N. W. side of the big ditch to extend to the post and rail fence. Except the lane that goes to my house to Wm. Mecums plantation, to my son Samuel Pedrick to him and his heirs forever. Item;-I give to my daughter Hannah Manes the sum of 15 pounds as a legacy. Item;-I give to my son John Pedrick the sum of 20 pounds as a legacy. Item;- I give to my daughter Elizabeth Lloyd the sum of 50 pounds as a legacy. My will is that my daughter Jane Pedrick shall have the whole of my Movable Estate Except the above mentioned legacies. Lastly I Nominate, Constitute and Appoint my son John Pedrick Executor of this my last Will and Testament. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 23rd of August Dom One Thousand seven Hundred and Seventy six." Signed "Michael Pedrick."

In presence of James Wright, William Thompson & William Mecum. The executor, John Pedrick, duly affirmed, 9-9-1776, and was granted authority to act. He signed "John Pedrick."

The inventory was peculiarly and neatly made out on small unruled brown paper pages and sewed together in book form. It is filed with the will at Trenton and numbered 1700-Q. As an illustration of the possessions, methods and values of that day a copy follows.

4-1 SAMUEL PEDRICK, the eldest child of Michael, was born about 1729 and died in 1784, age 55. He married in 1746 TABITHA HEWES. He was farming in Lower Penns Neck and inherited a part of his father's land. He died intestate and Court Commissioners were appointed to divide his holdings which was done between the assignees of John and Redstreak Pedrick. No wife mentioned so that she was evidently deceased. The above is well substantiated except whom he married as there were several Samuels. The Friends Mens meeting minutes of Salem states that 4-30-1746 "Samuel Pedrick & Tabitha Hewes declared intention of marriage and produced parents consent in writing." 5-28-1746 came second time and Com. appointed to attend wedding. 6-25-1746 Report made "decently managed." (Tabitha soon died and Samuel married later, Elizabeth (tentative)).

7 ISAAC PEDRICK was born 6-27-1862, died 3-4-1937, age 74; buried at East View. Married, 11-25-1897, FLORENCE VIRGINIA HITCHNER, born 9-1-1865, on the old Penton farm in Alloway township in the same family 262 years. Her grandfather, William Hitchner, married a Penton, the immigrant ancestor of whom came the same year as Roger Pedrick, the parchment deed still in existence in Alloway township. Isaac sold his interest in his father's farm to his brother and sister, Elmer and Mary, and bought a farm in Elsinboro. He later sold and bought a Seeley farm five miles from Bridgeton. After eight years sold and moved to Salem about 1912. He also bought a farm in Man-nington township which his family still owns. In 1924 he bought a home at 102 Seventh Street, Salem, where his family resides. An up-standing man of great fidelity is the tribute accorded him.

5-1 JOHN and 5-2 REDSTREAKE PEDRICK. Now the foregoing and other information shows that when Samuel Pedrick died in 1784 he left the above two children. John assigned or sold his undivided half to Alex Gilmore and left for Salem and his brother retained his half interest until 1802 when he also sold out to his nephew, John T. Peddrick. Alex Gilmore had died and his heirs were possessed of one-half Samuel's estate so the Court Com. then divided the land between Redstreak and heirs of Gilmore, bounded and butted by land of James Wright, Joseph Copner and Baldredges creek and John T. other land. Now John T. Peddrick retained possession of all his land until 1822 when he sold out to Elijah Dunn and migrated with his family from New Jersey which history appears elsewhere.

There are no records as to what became of Redstreak after he sold his inheritance.

4-2 JOHN PEDRICK, born about 1730, died 1781, age 51, married MARY (surname not found) nor date of marriage. He inherited his father's plantation in Lower Penns Neck where he resided until death. His will was drawn in 1779 and probated in 1781, Salem wills book 23, page 359. He bequeaths to son, John, his plantation where he lives the same that was willed to him by his father, Michael, save with a few exceptions noted in the will, and with the addition of other land later bought. The balance of the will reads as follows: "Item;-I give and bequeath unto the child that my wife Mary is pregnancy with now that is to say if the child my wife Mary is pregnant with now be a son I give and bequeath unto him the above mentioned three acres of marsh and half a field joining land of Samuel Pedrick next to James Wrights Woods that I saved bequeathing to my son John being part of the plantation I now live on. Item;- I give and bequeath unto the child that my wife Mary is pregnant with now if it be a son three acres of land being part of a ten acre piece of land bought by John Pedrick from Andrew Sin-nickson Sr., Esq. & William Bilderback. But if the child that my wife Mary is pregnant with now be a daughter I give and bequeath unto her the daughter of my wife the other one-half of my movable estate, then all of the above mentioned lands I give and bequeath unto my son John Pedrick his heirs and assigns forever. ITEM;- I give and bequeath to my brother Samuel Pedrick one acre of land being part of the fifteen acres of land bought by my father Michael Pedrick from Jacob Vanne-man which I give and bequeath unto the said Samuel Pedrick his heirs and assigns forever. ITEM;- I give and bequeath to Hannah Manes the House with the garden where Joseph Scott now lives with wood for the fire of the said House, which House garden and fire wood for the use of said House I give and bequeath unto the said Hannah Manes or assigns from the twenty fifth day of March one thousand seven hundred and eighty one and from that time as long as Hannah Manes Lives and no Longer. And I do hereby constitute make and ordain my loving and trusty friend Joseph Tindall my Sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament and I do hereby revoke and disannull all and every former Testaments, Wills and Legacies Bequests and Executors by me in any ways before this time Named Willed and Bequeathed, Ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hands and Seal the day and year above Written.
John Pedrick."

5 JOHN T. PEDDRICK married, 2-7-1803, MARY LONG, and was settled on his plantation in Lower Penns Neck which he inherited from his father and owned other land bought from his cousin, Redstreak Pedrick. Salem deed book Z—Page 391—shows that on 3-27-1832 he and his wife, Mary, of "Lower Pennsneck," sold all his land, 177 acres and three rods, to Elijah Dunn, of the same location, for $7500, adjoining lands of Rhoda Pedrick (his sister), Edmund Wright and others with buildings and improvements. Elijah Dunn had become guardian of his sister, Rhoda, and rendered accounts of his trust in 1816, 1818 and 1819. John's uncle, Isaac, from Upper Penns Neck, had migrated to the "Miami Country," then the western territory of the United States in Ohio,, Indiana and Illinois, and John had decided to migrate also with his family to Illinois whither they journeyed. When they reached Pittsburgh, John got "cold feet" and returned as far as Philadelphia where he settled. They lived in the village of Fairmount which was no doubt suburban Philadelphia, now where Fairmount Avenue runs through. He had a hauling business and later a stand in the Second Street Market for eating. Elijah Dunn died in 1835 and John gave his son, Washington, power of attorney to act for him in the estate of Elijah Dunn which indicated he had interests there. No records were located indicating action.

3-4 WILLIAM PEDRICK was born about 1711-15 and died in 1790, age about 79. The Men's Friends Salem Mtgs. state, 9-28-1743, WILLIAM PEDRICK and MARY SILVER declare their intention of marriage. John Duell and Jacob Lippincott appointed to inquire of clearness. 10-26-1743, above came second time, intentions approved. 11-30-1743, reports made by those appointed to attend wedding it was "decently managed." MARY died about 1756 after 13 years of marriage and the next Friends meeting where William's name is mentioned is 1-31-1757, thus "William Pedrick and Lidya Faucit declared intention of marriage." 2-28-1757, came second time. 3-28-1757, Committee reported the marriage decently managed. No records of any children by his second marriage. Further Mtg. activities: 12-26-1763, "Request made by James and William Pedrick for a certificate to Abington monthly Mtg. Phila." 3-30-1767, Jacob Davis reported on behalfe of Friends of Pilesgrove Mtg. that they had thought of William Pedrick in the upper part of Penns Neck to be the most Easy to hold mtgs. at for the present on Tryal which this Mtg. concurs with and proposes that Mtgs. be held there, the first to be held on the Last first in the next Month and another to be held on the Second first day in the Sixth month next." Com. appointed to attend. 11-30-1769, he and wife Lidya signed as witnesses to the marriage of his son Daniel. From 1759 on Lidia was active on Com. and she and William appointed to attend various weddings. Their names do not appear after 1770.

WILLIAM made his will, 1-1-1778, which was probated in 1790 Trenton (Book 31-P-491). It reads: "The first day of the first month called January in the year of our Lord One thousand seven hundred and seventy eight I William Pedrick of Upper Penns Neck in the County of Salem and Western division of New Jersey Yeoman, being indisposed as to health but of perfect mind and memory thanks be to the Lord, I do make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following:

IMPRIMIS;-ITEM;-I give and bequeath unto my son Daniel Pedrick one cow that he now has in his keeping and a book called Sewalls history.

ITEM;-I give devise and bequeath unto my son Elihu Pedrick to him his heirs and assigns forever that part of my land and plantation whereon he now lives being the lower part of my land and bounded as followeth." He describes this farm by metes and bounds lying along Old Mans creek and by lands of Thomas Pedrick and Aquilla Jones.

1-1 ROGER; 2-1 JOHN; 3-4 WILLIAM PEDRICK

ITEM;-“I give devise and bequeath unto my son Isaac Pedrick to him his heirs and assigns forever all the remaining part of my lands with my dwelling house and plantation with my movable estate.

ITEM;-“It is my will and I do positively order that my two youngest sons shall pay fifteen pounds to their brother Daniel Pedrick, that is seven pounds ten shillings each of them. I likewise nominate Constitute, ordain and appoint my son Isaac Pedrick my whole full and sole executor of this my last Will and Testament and I do hereby utterly disallow revoke and disannull all former Wills and Testaments by me made, Ratifying and confirming this only to be my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year above written.” Signed William Pedrick. Witnesses, Jacob Somers, William Hides and Owen Connelly. Probate granted 8-4-1790. No wife mentioned. There probably had been other than the three children mentioned that had died in infancy.

4-1 DANIEL PEDRICK.	The New Jersey Col. records state that he married, 11-30-1769, Naomi Hoffman, of Pilesgrove. The Salem Women's Friends Mtgs. state that 10-30-1769, "Came Daniel Pedrick & Naomy Hopeman" and declared intention of marriage. Present at his Quaker wedding his father Wm. and stepmother "Lydyia," his bro. Elihu and Sarah Pedrick. 12-25-1769, Com. appointed reports marriage orderly accomplished. They were both active as Friends. 10-3-1770, signed at his bro. Elihu's marriage. To Quarterly Mtgs. Certificates and weddings. The Men's minutes, 8-27-1781, states that Daniel Pedrick requires Cert. of removal himself wife and children to Prov. Mtg. Pa. The Prov. Mtg. of Chester states that 3-22-1782 Daniel Pedrick produced Cert. for self and wife Naomi and three children Kezia, Mary and John. 1-27-1783 Appointed on a Com. 3-31-1783 amongst others appointed trustee of burial lot, school house lot and lot where Mtg. house stands. 6-28-1784 Prov. Mtg. women inform that Naomi Pedrick widow of Daniel requires Cert for self and four children Keziah, Mary, John and Thomas to Salem Co. Daniel was therefor in Chester but two years when he died there and his family returned to their nativity. The Men's Salem Mtg., 2-22-1790, state Naomi Pedrick applies for a Cert. for removal to Greenwich. Her Bros-in-law Isaac and Elihu with others on Com. 4-26-1790 Cert. approved for "Naomi and son Daniel." It appears therefore she had this son Daniel after his father's death.

4-2 DANIEL

Naomi, wife of Daniel Pedrick, had therefore five children, all young, at her husband's death and she likely left all but the posthumous son, Daniel, then six years old, with relatives at Pedricktown when she moved to Greenwich and may have married secondly although no record appears. She and Samuel Ogden were appointed to administer her husband's estate.

5 THOMAS died at Sharptown as per Trenton Archives "son of Daniel and Naomi, of consumption, widower, currier, 6-3-1852." No issue known. See further.

5 DANIEL PEDRICK born 1784, died 1829, age 45; married about 1814 but to whom the various Archives do not state nor where they are buried. There is no will on record but his estate was administered by Thomas Edwards, who was ordered to sell the real estate that had been acquired. He rendered an account before the June term of Court, 1830, showing personal of $844.17, but no account of distribution. He was but six years old when his mother took him to Greenwich, where he grew up and married. A further delving into the Court records would propably show who he married.

6 ISAAC PEDRICK born at Bridgeton, 1815, died about 1870, age 55; married SARAH WOODRUFF, of Cumberland County, who died in 1897. Isaac was given a good education and started out as a school teacher but was inclined to business and went to Wilmington, Del., where his brother, Mark, had located in the iron business, and opened a refinery on an island in Brandywine creek and was the first man to make coal oil from crude. Lightning soon burned the plant to the ground. He rebuilt and the same thing happened again requiring another rebuilding. After four years it occurred again so he quit and moved back to Bridgeton and became an iron and steel merchant with success and prominence in Bridgeton. Cumberland County deeds show that, 3-22-1859, Robert Barber sold to Isaac Pedrick and John Cheeseman, Jr., for $1800 a lot of land on which a foundry stood on the south side of Broad Street, Bridgeton, containing 32 square perches. They sold this, 5-1-1866, to Jacob Kienzle for $3500. The records also show that he with Cheeseman and others owned 23 acres of land and swamp with grist mill and mill seat, water power, etc., in the township of Deerfield. He sold his interest in this, 4-2-1867, to Samuel Rammel for $1000. There is no record of a will or administration but he died about 1875 his wife surviving. She made a will, 6-11-1895, which was probated, 6-12-1897, her son, David S. Pedrick, executor. She names as beneficiaries her son, David S., a daughter, Emily C. Mixner, and grandchildren, Nellie S. and Rebecca L. Mixner. A daughter, Rebecca W. Locke, and granddaughters, Dora C. Locke and Emily G. Locke, living in Camden. Her son-in-law, Elmer H. Mixner and another granddaughter, May F. Ames.

7 DANIEL WEBSTER PEDRICK born at Sharptown, N. J., 8-16-1840, died 2-10-1926, age 86; married, 3-12-1863, MARY FRANCES HITCHNER, born at Deerfield, 1-7-1839, died, 1-26-1910, age 71; both buried in Overlook Cemetery, Bridgeton. She was the daughter of Jeremiah and Phebe (Cake) Hitchner. Daniel was bent on becoming a machinist against his mother's wishes and at the age of 14 went over to his Uncle Mark's place in Wilmington, Del. His father brought him back and apprenticed him to a machinist in Woodstown. When the war broke out he enlisted for three years in the Third Regiment New Jersey Volunteers, 5-25-1861, as a musician in the band and went to the front. A spent cannon ball wounded him in the leg and he was released, 8-10-1862. He then opened up a machine shop and foundry in Bridgeton. He did foundry work for Baldwin's in Philadelphia and in 1871 moved to Philadelphia and connected with Baldwin's as a foreman and later in the same capacity with the L. B. Flanders Machine Works. His real estate dealings in brief follow: 11-5-1864, he, with George W. Stearns and Trueman Chapman, buy for $5000 from James Potter a wharf dwelling and land of one acre along Cohansey creek. The firm traded as Stearns, Borden & Co. and later as Stearns, Pedrick & Poole and the business was dissolved, 11-14-1868. 3-12-1884, Daniel and Mary, of Philadelphia, sold a house and lot in Bridgeton for $1000. 5-14-1900, buys for $2100 land in Fourth Ward containing 7950 ft. and sells same later to Edgar J. Hitchner, 5-14-1900; buys for $4500 land in Fourth Ward from Charles Elmer and sells same for $4900, 6-5-1900, to Missouri H. Bowen. 5-13-1902, signs with six others a release to City of Bridgeton to rights in sewer system on East Avenue and Elm Street. His real estate activities in Philadelphia have not been traced but when Flanders died Daniel, with Harry C. Ayar, took over the business as Pedrick & Ayar. His residence at time of death was 1627 Poplar Street. He married, secondly, KATE W. EBERT, widow, born in Philadelphia, 5-1-1858, daughter of George and Emeline (Skillman) Wagner. She still lives at the family residence. No issue by second marriage.

8 HOWARD A. PEDRICK married CLARA HELEN ADELAIDE HICKMAN born Philadelphia, 5-31-1863, daughter of Charles and Adelaide Hickman, her father coming from Germany and having a tailor business at 10th and Poplar Streets. Howard graduated from the Lincoln Grammer School and had five years of training as a machinist in his father's firm. In 1898 he engaged for the South American jungle in a gold mining adventure. His family was quartered at Paramaribo while he went into the jungle with a vessel load of equipment including an American locomotive, other Americans and natives. Only partial success was accomplished over a period of several years during which heat, insects and fevers became conquerers. Howard miraculously escaped death and came home. A narrative of these events was published in 1930 in a book of 300 pages entitled "Dad Pedrick's Story" or "Jungle Gold" which had a big sale. In 1913 the Pedrick Machine & Tool Co. was formed, now operating at 3640 North Lawrence Street under the supervision of himself, his brother and his son, Daniel. He was a pioneer in the invention of the "Pedrick Piston Ring" for automobiles which is extensively advertised and sold to this day. Residence, No. 104 Edgehill Road, Bala, Pa.

As previously stated little had been learned of MARK PEDRICK but his grandson of 75 in Gloucester who lived in Wilmington and was born there and has a keen memory has supplied me with the following. He did not, however, mention Horatio Nelson Pedrick. MARK had children:

7 JOSEPH PEDRICK, whose history has preceded this page.

7 HANNAH PEDRICK, who married and had three children in Wilmington and then moved to the West.

7 EMMA PEDRICK married JOHN CLEEDON and lived in Wilmington. Had three children.

7 MARGARET PEDRICK married SAMUEL GARRETT. Lived in Okesson near Wilmington, Del.

7 MARK PEDRICK married ANNIE STEEN, no children. He lived in Wilmington and kept a cigar store.

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

6 JOHN PEDRICK was born 7-12-1812, died 7-11-1903, age 91 less one day. He married MARIA JEFFERIES, lately divorced from William Francis, having a child, MARY FRANCIS, by her former marriage. She died about 1900. Both buried in American Mechanics Cemetery. As a child she was adopted by a family name of Graves, of Burlington, N. J., where she was raised. It is stated that John was born and raised in Philadelphia about 22nd and Arch Streets. He early worked in a brickyard as an off-bearer, that of carrying the bricks from the moulds to the kiln for baking. He later worked in Baldwin's. He was one of the first in Philadelphia to embrace Methodism as a member of the first primitive church founded at 17th Street and Fairmount Avenues known as the "Old Plank Church." The later outgrowth of this church became the "Heading Church" at 16th Street and Fairmount Avenue where he later served as sexton. This church, just below Fairmount Avenue, is now occupied by a Colored congregation. There is a tradition as handed down from him he was descended maternally from an Irish judge. Through intermarriage the family was related to Lucretia Mott and all the daughters bore her name.

4-2 ELIHU

I give and bequeath unto my son Joseph that homestead lot of land where he now lives, to him his heirs and assigns forever in a Deed made to him having date the 25th day of the 3rd month 1807 reference thereunto will more fully appear. ITEM;-I give and bequeath to my son Isaac all the remaining part of my land except what is hereafter reserved for sale, to him his heirs and assigns forever. I give and bequeath unto my daughter Hannah one feather bed (other specified furniture) & one hundred and fifty pounds in money to be paid by my executors in one year after my deceas.

And my will is that my executors hereafter named shall sell all the remaining part of my movable estate and that tract of woodland I bought off my brother Isaac which he bought off Jos. Allen and that lot of meadow lying in Glouc. Co. that I likewise bought off my brother Isaac in order to pay my Just debts and legasays to my Daughters and to lease out that part of my plantation that is left to my son Isaac till he arrives at the age of twenty one and if that should not prove sufficient my two sons Joseph and Isaac to pay the remainder equally between them, that is each of them one-half part.

I likewise nominate, order, constitute and appoint my son Joseph Pedrick and my friend Asa Kirby (latter crossed off) my sole and lawful executors of this my last will and testament" etc. etc. Witnesses, James Atkinson, Joseph Snode, and Isaac Davis Jr. Affirmation was given at probate by Atkinson as witness and by the Executor. 130 items appraised in inventory for a total of $1303.60.

His very old Bible (no date) descended to his son, Joseph, then to William H., son of Joseph, then George Roger Pedrick and now owned by Hamilton G. Pedrick, of Pedricktown. The ink has faded but the record appears as follows as near as can be deciphered. The last born child, Isaac, not in the Bible. There were ten children the same number his grandfather, John, had but the mortality was high as seemed usual during that time. Of the ten only three lived and left descendants. The one that lived the longest never married. Jane, who married John Clark, has not been traced.

6 WILLIAM H. PEDRICK, married 4-2-1829, SARAH FIRESTONE, of Pedricktown, born 6-6-1805, died 12-4-1880, age 75; both buried in the old Friends burying ground at Pedricktown. She was the daughter of David and Rebecca Firestone. He was a farmer owning land in and adjoining Pedricktown which had been handed down through succeeding generations from the time of Roger and at the time William died he still owned 130 acres of the original purchase in 1673. He was active in the affairs of the community and the Friends meetings, a Justice of the Peace for Upper Penns Neck for three five-year terms—1870, 1875, 1880. Cushing & Sheppard in their history state some of the data regarding the settlement of Oldmans was contributed by William H. Pedrick and Thomas Shourds, Esqs. The Friends meeting house was built here about 1812 and connected with Piles Grove. Gordon's history of 1834 states that Pedricktown contains 20 to 30 dwellings, one Friends Mtg. house, one tavern, two stores, one school and inhabited by agriculturists and mechanics. Soil a sandy loam and well cultivated by means of the marl found in the neighborhood. The Palma Christi or castor oil bean is extensively produced here and about 1500 gallons of oil is manufactured yearly. WILLIAM married, secondly, EVALINE MATLACK, born 1825, died 1907, age 82, buried in Emmanuel Cemetery. No issue by her. His Bible owned by his grandson, Hamilton G. Pedrick.

7 GEORGE ROGER PEDRICK, born 10-2-1838, died 2-11-1924, age 86; married 1-27-1872 ELIZABETH SPICER LEAMING, born Cape May County 7-28-1843, died 10-11-1923, age 80; both buried in Pedricktown Cemetery. She was the daughter of Aaron and Ann (Pilgrim) Leaming and traces back to John Howland, of the Mayflower. She was first a school teacher. The above George was probably the first to be given as a middle name that of his immigrant forbear. Others have followed to this day in like manner but only one has been given the name Roger as first name that has come to the attention of the writer. The above George raised himself as an important member of his family. Active in civic affairs, in the town Council Board of Education, charter member I. O. O. F. and one of the last to be born into the Society of Friends. He early became interested in seed growing for Benson Maule and Burpee and other Philadelphia firms. He specialized in vegetables, introduced new products bearing his name, and exhibited at fairs. The business was started in an old church building which was moved to the farm. In 1906 his son became a partner and a three-story warehouse was erected to take care of the expanding business. In 1919 he built a new home and retired from active business spending part of his later years wintering at Hallandale in Florida. Married 51 years.

She also has the Pedrick blood tracing back to Roger from his son, Thomas. They are both resident in the home that his father built in Pedricktown. He was educated in the public schools and at Mt. Hermon, Mass. Early became a partner with his father in the seed business yet conducted as George R. Pedrick & Son. The business expanded and another building was erected along the railroad with modern machinery for the separation and curing of seeds. Shipments are made to all parts of the country, to Europe and as far as India. He has traveled considerably here and abroad in the interests of the business in contracts for seed growing in various localities best suited for different varieties and in the development of the sales department. He has taken an active part in politics and is president of the Peoples' Bank of Pennsgrove, N. J. He is still the owner of considerable acreage of the land that Roger Pedrick settled on in 1675 and which has been handed down from father to son for 262 years.

6 GEORGE L. PEDRICK, born 3-17-1815. The New Jersey records indicate no history of this member of the family either in marriages, deaths or real estate transfers. The only positive record is found in old Philadelphia directories. In the issue of 1875 appears George L. Pedrick, plasterer, living at 1832 Brandywine Street, and of George C. Pedrick, artist, at same address, evidently a son. It is evident therefor that this fourth child of Joseph and brother of Squire William H. and Joseph Somers Pedrick, the mill owner, at that time came early to Philadelphia and followed the work of a plasterer. He no doubt married in Philadelphia and died there but further of his history has not developed.

5 JOSEPH PEDRICK and DEBORAH SOMERS

6 JANE CLARK PEDRICK, born 4-20-1817, died 2-11-1881, age 63; married, 3-5-1839, CHALKLEY PEDRICK, born 8-11-1814, died 3-31-1886, age 71; both buried at Pedricktown. He was the son of Silas Pedrick, descendant from Roger through Thomas, brother of John. He was a farmer about Pedricktown and evidently no children survived although the Trenton records give a daughter, born 3-14-1852.

6 JOSEPH SOMERS PEDRICK, born 2-22-1822, died 6-4-1861, age 39; buried in a lone grave at Pedricktown. Married DEBORAH ANN SOMERS, daughter of John. His widow then married Jacob K. Justice who was a captain of boats operating from Pedricktown, and had one child, Minnie, who married and has a family now resident at Portland, Ore. After Deborah died Jacob married, thirdly, Ruth Hortman, widow of Peter, who appears elsewhere in this history and is descendant from Roger through Thomas, Robert, Silas and Miles. He was joint owner of the grist mill of Pedricktown, built about 1849 and operated as Justice & Pedrick. Shortly before he died he sold his half interest to Jacob K. Justice, later being run as William Justice & Co. This old mill is still operated and has been in the Justice family nearly 100 years. The old brick dwelling near the landing also passed into the Justice family where Harvey Justice is resident, a grandson of the original Justice, mill owner. Joseph's will was drawn, 1-15-1861, and probated 6-27-1861. He leaves his wife the household goods "and one-half of storehouse and road to it, one-quarter part of hay scales which stands near the mill. My one-quarter part of sloop, Albatross. My one-quarter part of sloop, California. and the $4100 for my one-half part of the mill. My one-half part of the stock which was in the mill and the storehouse at the time of the sale of the mill. All to her as long as she is my widow. If she marries, all estate to children except one-third of the interest to her then for life; and at the death of John Somers, her father, if he bequeaths her share of his property to my children then I bequeath to her children the equivalent. Witnesses: Mayhew Johnson, M.D., Charles P. Somers and John Vanderbilt. Inventory, September term of Court, 1862—$8250.48."

6 JOSEPH DIVER PEDRICK. Born, 10-2-1815; died, 12-12-1865, age 50, buried in his brother-in-law's lot (David Shoemaker) in Pedricktown cemetery. He was one of the three Josephs living contemporaneously, having the middle letter D spoken of previously in this history, his distant relative Joseph Dunn Pedrick having also lived in Philadelphia at one time and died in Camden wealthy.

His wife was SARAH but a search of records did not show her maiden name, nor her birth or date of death, but she out-lived her husband and is probably buried in a Lippincott family lot whom her daughter married.

He became a tailor and had the business of Pedrick & Allison at 270 and 316 High Street in Philadelphia as listed in the 1850 Philadelphia directory. As told by the late Edward Webster of Pedricktown, he served many Pedricktown people with clothes. Eventually the wool from the cloth brought on consumption in his lungs and he was obliged to give up the business. He evidently prospered as per his will and numerous real estate transfers, amongst which 6-27-1844 Jas. S. Springer and Lydia to Jos. D. Pedrick of Philadelphia for \$75. $\frac{3}{4}$ acre of land in Pedricktown. 8-19-1848 Wm. H. Pedrick and Hudson A. Springer Com. sold to Jos. D. Pedrick for \$300. No. 1 house and lot in P-Town at edge of Union Street cor. of Francis Pedrick lot and Wm. Justice land $\frac{1}{4}$ acre it being No. 9 on the N. W. of High Street as numbered and laid out in a map of said village by Isaac Wilkins Le Fort surveyed 2-13-1794. Again 4-12-1844 John C. (his brother) to Jos. D. for \$678.00. No. 1 house and 30 acres of land and Meadow in P-Town adj. late Miles Pedrick, John Somers & O. M. Creek. No. 2 Pce. woodland and fields near No. 1 adj. Wm. H. Pedrick, John Dickinson and Job Bevis and others 40 acres. No. 3 was 19 acres of woodland and swamp, No. 4 was 3 acres in Amicable Meadow Co. adj. heirs of Poltis Risner and others, all of which was the inheritance of John from his father Isaac.

Joseph made his will dated "the 11th day of the 3rd month, 1865" probated in Philadelphia 1-4-1866, his wife Sarah executrix. She is bequeathed the property at 116 Mt. Vernon Street, Philadelphia. At her death to daughter Emma R. Lippincott. Other bequests $1000 ground rent $4000 mortgage, 50 shares Catawissa R. R. Co. $6000 to daughter for investment in Philadelphia real estate and his library of books $1000 to bro. John and $100 to a maid.

6 HANNAH PEDRICK. Born, 7-13-1818; died, 9-30-1865, age 47; married, 2-17-1841 DAVID SHOEMAKER of Pedricktown, born 5-30-1808, died 1888, age 79, both buried in Pedricktown Cem. She was his second wife and they had seven children of whom but two left descendants. David had come to Pedricktown from near Centre Square and bought farm land between Pedricktown and Beaver Creek and prospered.

For the history of Hannah's descendants by David, refer to "Shoemaker Genealogy" of 1935, Pages 12 and 18 to 23. The author of this genealogy is included in that book.

WILLIAM PEDRICK and MARY SILVER CHILDREN.

4-3 ISAAC PEDRICK, born, 3-3-1754; died, 1838, age 84; married in 1777 HANNAH OSBORNE, born 12-13-1757, daughter of Richard and Phoebe Osborne. There were three brothers, Daniel, Elihu, and Isaac, all probably more active together with their father than any other of the Pedrick family in the affairs of the Friends Soc. Meetings at his home, oversight of Mtgs., on var. Com. raising funds for poor and negro children and conveyed to Elihu and others ground for the use of the school Soc. and burying ground. "The parchment deed and instruments of trust in the Friends Archives at 15th and Race Streets, Philadelphia." His wife was from "within the verge of Little Egg Harbor." There is little history obtained about this family. The Piles Grove Friends records show 9 children born of whom the parents attended weddings of two daughters in 1799 and 1800. It then appears in 1806 he sold all his land practically and decided to move to Ohio or Indiana with the balance of the family. 4-15-1807 Salem Deeds (Z-3-321) "Isaac Pedrick and Hannah wife late of U. P. Neck in the Co. of Salem and State of N. J. but now of the Miami Country in the Western Territory of the U. S. of America by their lawful attorney Jos. Brown of Penns Neck afsd. of the one part and Hudson Springer of the same place store keeper of the other part". Whereas Isaac sells to Springer 4¼ acres of meadow in Woolwich that he purchased 3-24-1796. Somewhere in the "MIAMI COUNTRY" enough Pedrick's might be found to fill another book. The record of children follows:

5 PHOEBE, born 10-16-1777, likely died young. 5 MARTHA, born 8-21-1780, married 4-2-1800 SAMUEL CRAIG of Upper Alloways.

5 MARY ANN, born 8-21-1780 (twin of Martha), married 3-27-1799 AARON STREET of Mannington (neither of these have been searched).

5 HANNAH, born 7-15-1790, Lydia 4-23-1788, 5 WILLIAM 12-9-1792 and RICHARD, ELIHU, and CLAYTON, no dates. The balance of this family living unmarried in 1807 no doubt settled in the West.

3 JACOB PEDRICK. Born about 1715; died, 1759, age 44, and had wife MARY. He was the eighth child of John and but 14 when his father died, but was a favored son inasmuch as he was to receive the plantation by his father's will if his elder brother William should not live to 21 to receive it, which he did, however, and the only direct legacy to "Jacob, Thomas and Samuel the three youngest was five pounds apiece at age 21. His will was drawn 5-8-1758 and probated Feb. 1759, naming as legatees his wife Mary and children John, Jacob, Elizabeth and Mary all minors. John to live with Dr. Francis Halter to learn his occupation." Bequeaths land including marsh over Salem creek bought of Francis Dunlap and land bought of Thos. Carter and Matthias Neelson. Executors his wife, his bro. John and Samuel Lench the latter renouncing. Witnesses, Peter Peterson, Saml. Whitehorne and Francis Halter. Inventory 2-9-1759 by Jos. 4 JOHN PEDRICK not connected. The only will and administration for a John not placed is found in Adm. Book A, Page 22, Salem, in 1806. "I Artes Seagrave, Sur, of the Co. of Salem Do Certify that of the 24th of Dec. 1806 Adm. of the goods and chattels and credits which were of John Peddrick late of the Co. of Salem who died intestate was granted by me to Robert Pedrick of the Co. of Salem and is duly authorized to administer the same agreeably to law."

Orphans Court Mar. term 1807 Petition of Susannah that Robert Pedrick be appointed guardian of Miranda, Reuben and John children of John minors under 14, which was granted. Cemetery records or official marriage records do not readily place any of above, and no further search has been made.

No search has been attempted for the descendants of either Elizabeth or Mary.

3-8 JACOB

4 JACOB PEDRICK. JR. Born about 1747, inherited some land from his father and prospered in L. P. Neck. He died in 1802, age 57, intestate. His widow HANNAH then married Jeremiah Garrison and together on petition the June term of Orphans Court 1802 granted them guardianship of Isaac, Mary, Joseph, Rebecca and Elizabeth Pedrick "infants under the age of 14 years, children of Jacob Pedrick dec. until they arrive at the age of 14." The first born John was 21 and not included. An account was filed before the same term of court showing inventory of $697.21. The widow of Jacob, now wife of Jeremiah Garrison, died some time after this and Jeremiah continued as guardian and rendered accounts of his trust until 1812 when he also died and Nathan Finley was appointed in his stead for Rebecca and Elizabeth and John Pedrick was appointed for his brother Joseph yet under 21. By a decree of the Orphans Court Sept. term 1806 Commissioners were appointed to divide the lands of Jacob Pedrick dec. amongst his six children heirs at law (Div. of lands Book B, Page 138 Salem). They made their report of division according to the act entitled "An act to alter the law directing the descent of Real Estates passed the 21st day of May, 1780, and have assorted each one his share by metes and bounds as folleth, that is to say; We have assigned and set off unto the said John Pedrick the several lots mentioned and numbered in the map hereunto annexed, the first of which lots begins with number eight." The description of each portion follows all in Lower Penns Neck some of it meadow along the "Dellowar River" all covering four pages of the book with a parchment map appended. The part set off to Joseph is No. 9.

5 ISAAC PEDRICK. Having carried through to 1937 the descendants of Isaac's brother John the first born of Jacob Jr. we now take up that of ISAAC. He was born 8-17-1788 and died 5-20-1847 age 58. His wife was MARY surname unknown born 9-20-1792 and died 11-12-1852 both buried in the Presbyterian cemetery below Pennsville. His head stone was easily read but hers along side had lain face down for years. I turned it over but could not read through the grime of time so left, that the rains might wash her face. On my next visit the inscription was as though recently done. A reverent posterity could claim just praise if some of these old burial plots could be put in respectable condition. Many thanks however to the "Good Earth" as a preserver of marble lettering which mostly becomes unreadable when exposed to the blasts of a hundred winters. Isaac inherited his share of land as divided by Court Commissioners in L.P. neck about the "Hook" road and Churchtown where he farmed. He died intestate and his son Samuel D. Pedrick rendered an account to the November 1848 term of Court. He had real estate transactions but space has precluded interest in this now.

WIFE HANNAH. (Her maiden name not ascertained.)

5 JOSEPH D. PEDRICK the third of six children born in Lower Penns Neck in 1794 and died at No. 721 Market Street, Camden, N. J., 1-27-1873, age 79. He married 7-12-1818 ANN TICE CHEW of Gloucester Township, born in 1795 and died 1-5-1855, age 60, both buried in the family plot in Greenwood Cemetery, Camden, Lot 127, Sec. B. She was the daughter of Robert and Anna (Tice) Chew, the Chew family coming from Flushing, L. I., and settling in N. J. at the lost town of "Upton". Joseph was but eight years of age at his father's death in 1802. His mother, Hannah, then married Jeremiah Garrison and together they were appointed guardians of five of her six children under the age of 14 (Salem Orphans' Court, June term, 1802). The eldest child, John, was past his majority and in 1812 was appointed guardian for his brother Joseph after the death first of their mother and later their step-father Jeremiah Garrison. Joseph was apprenticed as a wheelwright to a relative in Woodbury, most likely Benjamin Pedrick. Stewart's "Notes on Old Gloucester" from the Woodbury Constitution, 1817-1819, describing prison bounds in Woodbury, states, "And including the market house, the slaughter house and wheelwright shop occupied by Benjamin Pedrick." From the same notes in 1824, "Joseph D. Pedrick offered a four-horse stage lined and stuffed with side curtains for sale. It had four seats, two sets of breast chains and swingle trees." It is evident then at age 30, Joseph was in business at Woodbury. His father had died intestate and by a decree of the Salem Co. Orphans' Court, September term, 1806, Commissioners were appointed to divide his land amongst his six children, heirs at law. (Salem Division of Lands Book, P. 138.) They made their report of division according to the Act entitled, "An Act to alter the law directing the descent of the Real Estates passed the 21st day of May, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty" which report sayeth "And have assorted each one his share by metes and bounds as followeth, that is to say, we have set off and assigned unto the said Joseph Pedrick the several lots mentioned and numbered in the map hereunto annexed." A description of each one's portion is made all in Lower Penns Neck, including meadow along the "Dellowar" river covering four written pages and a parchment map appended.

AND WIFE HANNAH (her maiden name not ascertained);
5 JOSEPH D. PEDRICK AND ANN TICE CHEW

The personal events attending the lives of other than the illustrious sink into oblivion after a period of 130 years, so it is difficult to know much about Joseph from this age of 12 until 21, or how he got along as a wheelwright in Woodbury, but Salem deed book (S-Page 162) 4-24-1815, shows that Joseph Pedrick of Woodbury, then age 21, sold his inherited real estate to John M. Stout (who married his sister Rebecca) for $1800. Joseph was yet single and signed "Joseph Pedrick". Seven years passed and in 1822 his sister Mary died leaving him a joint heir to her inheritance which part he sold then to Thomas Biddle for $125.00 (Salem deed book Z-Page 321). Having married in 1818 this deed required his wife's joinder which was signed "Joseph D. Pedrick, Ann T. Pedrick", dated 2-16-1822. Now the following month, 3-21-1822, he made his first purchase of real estate in the city of Woodbury from Isaac Ballinger for $1900, of 83/100th acres of land, the same that Samuel Mickle sold to James Saunders in 1797 and Saunders to Ballinger in 1816. From this time on Joseph bought and sold real estate until he died and the records show 19 other purchases in Gloucester Co. during the next 15 years. Sales were also made proving profitable. Any improvement or building activity regarding his properties has not been searched. In 1854 the family decided to move to Philadelphia, where he bought a home on 40th Street near Chestnut (Phila. deeds, TH-book 56, Page 353). They lived there 14 years and then 4-9-1868 he bought a lot in Camden for $775 and built a home which became No. 721 Market Street, where he lived until his death. (Camden deeds book 56, page 28.) His Woodbury activities included 11-20-1833 a signer to have Woodbury dam replaced and again with 200 others, 12-12-1834. 1-11-1837 amongst six others petitioning the N. J. State Legislature in session for an Act to incorporate Woodbury. 9-3-1842 appointed a delegate to the Democratic State Convention at Trenton to be held 9-7-1842, all of which shows he participated in the business and political life of Woodbury at this time.

His will was drawn 10-14-1868, probated 2-8-1873, Thomas W. Hurff executor. The appraisement of his personal was $69,972.83. This later increased to nearly $90,000.00. His real estate holdings at death added considerably to the above. His beneficiaries were his widow (second wife) and three children. His estate was apparently temporized with over a long period of years by the various Trustees and is yet not fully settled. Religiously he inherited his Quaker ancestry, but the Chews were Presbyterian and in the Woodbury Clerk's office in book of marriages appears "State of N. J., Gloucester Co., I, William Raftery, pastor of the Presbyterian Congregation at Woodbury, do hereby certify that I did marry and join together in the holy bonds of matrimony the following named persons at the time and place hereinafter expressed 6th. Also Joseph D. Pedrick to Ann Chew on the 12th day of July, 1818, he of Deptford Township County and State aforesaid, she of Gloucester Township County and State aforesaid." His Bible has not been seen but records show that Joseph and Ann had three children born from 1818 to 1824, who died in infancy. The old John and Albertus coffin book shows the purchase of a coffin by Joseph and later Mickles diary states "5-19-1824, two children of Joseph D. Pedrick deceased." If these children were named only their headstones or his Bible would show.

Joseph married secondly as per a Woodbury news item, "Widower, aged 60, married 4-18-1859, Anna E. Miller, aged 20, of Woodbury, by Simon Sparks, Justice of the Peace." He brought his second wife to Philadelphia and then to Camden and lived with her 14 years until his death and had one child by her.

6 JOSEPHINE D. PEDRICK, born 12-13-1859, died in 1885, age 26. In these days of commentators a word in passing might not be amiss regarding the above Joseph D. Pedrick, who raised himself as the wealthiest member of the family, so far as has been ascertained. He had ambition, a keen intellect, and used fine judgment in embracing the opportunities of his day to his benefit. While his will names no philanthropies a search would no doubt show him as charitable with his means as the average.

6 JACOB B. PEDRICK never married. The records indicate that he lived mostly from his fathers' bounty and especially after his father's death. He traveled and made his home at the St. James hotel in Philadelphia, where he died and was buried in Eglington Cemetery at Clarksboro, N. J. His father's will stipulated, "One-third to Jacob B. Pedrick, to be paid to him in such manner as the executor deems best for his most good. Various amounts were paid him until 1885, when a trust fund was established from which he received $900 annually until 1893, when he succeeded in obtaining his principal of $18,000. He died three years afterwards.

His will, Phila. Sur. Off. book 185, P. 312, made 3-30-1896, leaves an appraised estate of $13,592.68, directing his burial at Eglington Cemetery without display in plain dress and coffin without handles, and leaves $300 in trust for care of lot and the one at Evergreen, Camden, his father's and near Good Intent. N. J., where his mother is buried. To his step-mother $3000. His brother Alfred $2000; the child of his half-sister, $2000. Odd Fellows Home, Philadelphia, $1000. As a tribute to his mother, Ann T., who was for 40 years a member of the M. E. Church of Woodbury, $500 to the M. E. Home at Collingswood. Bequeathes to George Hurff, Hiram Hurff, Jamison Nickolson, Kate Prosser and to George W. Bailey, ex. $2500 in lieu of commissions for administration.

There is no record of marriage and he probably left behind about one-half of his inheritance from his father after a period of more than 20 years.

6 ALFRED CHEW PEDRICK was born in Woodbury, 5-16-1827, and died 11-7-1903, age 76. He married 12-13-1849 REBECCA CLARK DOWN, born 6-16-1826, died 5-18-1890, age 63, both buried in St. Thomas's Cemetery. Glassboro. N. J. She was the daughter of Benjamin C. and Mary S. Down. Alfred started out as a school teacher at Haddonfield, then became a store keeper in Blackwood and later carried on the same business in Glassboro. He bought the old Sickler mansion in Glassboro at Main and Carpenter Streets, where he resided which old land mark is still vested in the family.

7 JOS. D. PEDRICK was just past his majority when his grandfather died and he inherited equally with his father in the estate. He started out as a druggist in Philadelphia but the indoor life was disliked so his father who had been a school mate with Kemble in Woodbury got him placed on the street cars. The street car lines of that day in Philadelphia were in the hands of the triumvirate Widener, Elkins, & Kemble. An amusing episode occurred one day in the street car office where a bully employee took pleasure in knocking off the hats repeatedly of the newcomers. Joseph resented this and being nearly six feet and 175 pounds decided to end it, so one day mopped up the floor with the bully which caused his discharge. He went down to Kemble's office and told Kemble he thought it unfair to get laid off for taking his own part. Kemble smiled, saying "a chip off the old block", giving him a note to take back which put him back to work greatly to the surprise of the other men and no more trouble with the bully.

He left street car work and later carried on a painting contracting business which he gave up when about age 75, and then took charge as superintendent of apartment houses in his present position at No. 501 North 35th Street, the past seven years where he resides. In youthful days he became early married and divorced in a few years. After mature deliberation he married secondly 10-25-1892 KATHARINE BURKHART, born 10-2-1872 in Germany, and came to America at age 7. They have lived together 45 years. No children. He has a cameo portrait of his grandfather which shows him as a courtly gentleman with the neck frills of that day. His grandson and namesake inherits his physical and facial appearance of keen mind and most perfect mouth and smile a fine type now past 86, who has never had the call of a doctor until recently in his whole lifetime. Since my pleasant call upon him, his death has taken place in May of 1938.

7 ALFRED CHEW PEDRICK, JR., was born 4-29-1857, died 3-13-1924, age 66. He was born at Blackwood, N. J., and married 1-23-1882 ELIZABETH CLAIRE MENGEL, of Bridgeton, N. J., who died 12-31-1937 at Newton, Mass. Both buried in Cedar Lawn Cemetery at Paterson, N. J. She was the daughter of Jacob and Martha (Campbell) Mengel and granddaughter of Lacey Campbell and Eliza Stanger. He was a newspaper man in Philadelphia, associated with William Gordon Bennett on the "Philadelphia Record", then studied medicine, graduating from Hahnemann College in Philadelphia in 1902, moved to Passaic, N. J., where he successfully practised medicine until his death.

Bethel, Pa., born Easton, Pa., 10-18-1872, daughter of George Jefferson and Christiana (Reick) Weaver. Residence, Glassboro. He went to Philadelphia when about 17 and worked as a reporter on various papers, advancing to city editor of the now discontinued Herald. He left newspaper work and matriculated in medicine, graduating from the Medico Chirurgical College in 1900. He opened an office in Glassboro and was resident physician and surgeon there over a period of 35 years and established an enviable reputation. In 1917 at the outbreak of the World War he was commissioned a captain in the U. S. Medical Corps and was stationed at the port of embarkation in New York. He was a charter member and past commander of Shaw-Paulin Post No. 241.

3 SAMUEL PEDRICK, born about 1719, died 1760, age 41. Married 1750 ESTHER OAKFORD. They were married but 10 years when Samuel died, probably in Wilmington, Del. There is no record of a will or administration in N. J., nor definite records of children. The only records regarding them are contained in the Quaker records. From the Salem Men's Meeting quote, 5-30-1750, "The overseers of Alloes Creek Meeting reported that there was a proposal of marriage moved at their Preparative Meeting between Samuel Pedrick and Esther Oakford which this meeting thought for some reasons was not fit to be allowed of. Therefore this meeting appoints John Denn and Johnathan Bradway to acquaint him with the reasons of the meeting not suffering them to pass."

6-27-1750 "The friends appointed to acquaint Samuel Pedrick with the reasons of the Meeting not suffering him to pass, makes report that they did and he said he should not give any satisfaction." (One year later) 6-26-1751. "At this meeting was produced a paper from friends of Wilmington monthly Meeting disowning Samuel Pedrick." 7-30-1751 Henry Stubbins is appointed to serve Samuel Pedrick with a copy of the testimony of friends of Wilmington monthly meeting, acquaint him and return the original to next monthly meeting." 8-28-1751 report made that copy of testimony had been served (some four years later). 6-30-1755 "Samuel Pedrick brought a paper to the Meeting condemning the liberties he hath taken in the world and also his outgoings in marriage which was read to the satisfaction of the meeting and he is received into unity again." During the next four years Samuel was an active Friend, on a Com. about an affair between John Steward and the Exs. of Joseph Ware, appointed to attend Qr. Mtgs. on marriage Com. and to attend marriages Johnathan Bradway and Eliz. Stewart and Jacob Oakford and Leah Denn. 10-6-1760 Cert. asked for Samuel Pedrick to remove within the "Verge" of Wilmington. Monthly meeting 10-27-1760, Cert. as brought not satisfactory, amendment ordered. 11-24-1760 Above Cert. not made right. 12-29-1760 above continued. 2-23-1761 "One of the Friends that was appointed by a former minute of this meeting to prepare a certificate for Samuel Pedrick, reported he is since deceased."

In the minutes of the women's meetings appears 8-27-1750 "This disons Ester Pedrick for maring contrary to good order amongst friends." A thorough search of Friends record at Wilmington might show if there were children by the above marriage.

PART TWO

THOMAS PEDRICK

1 ROGER-2-5-THOMAS PEDRICK, born at Marcus Hook, Pa., 2-14-1681, baptised at St. Paul's Church, Chester, 10-14-1704, died in May, 1719, age 38. Married at St. Paul's Church 12-20-1704, ELIZABETH MOULDER. After he died she married secondly OWEN SWANE or SWEENEY of Penns Neck. No record of children by second marriage. He was but 12 years old at his father's death and was probably raised about Chester, later succeeding to some of his father's land at Old Mans' Creek. He left five children from 14 years of age down to one yet unborn. Having married in an Episcopal Church, we find no activities of Thomas in the Friends' records.

His will was dated 12-21-1718 and proved 5-21-1719 at Salem. His wife and brother John executors. He names his wife and five children and an expected child.

(N. J. Wills Book 2, Page 120, Trenton.) "The seventh day of ye seventh month called December in ye year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighteen, I, Thomas Peddrick, of Penns Neck, in ye County of Salem in ye province of West New Jersey Cooper being weak in body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be unto God, therefore do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament as followeth.

IMPRIMIS: I give and bequeath to Elizabeth, my dearly beloved wife, ye one half of all by movables and ye profits of ye plantation to bring up ye children not destroying ye wood and timber by sale or wast but for ye use of ye place until my two sons Thomas and Philip shall come to ye age of twenty years. Ye is to say Thomas shall have ye privileg to settle on ye place at twenty years of age and when Philip shall come to ye age of twenty years he shall have ye same privileg to settle and it is to be equally divided between them (susoo I sur?) I giv to yem thare heirs and assigns ye whole tract being three hundred and seventy acres of land and meadow I own I give unto my two sons ye is to say Thomas ye bigost of ye two sons and to Philip ye Legas son and my will is my two sons above named Thomas and Philip in consideration of ye said land and plantation shall pay unto too brothers Robert and Benjamin ten pounds each and ten pounds to ye child which my wife is bigy with as thar shall arrive to ye age of his enty years, and

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-5 THOMAS

IMPRIMIS: I give ye other half of my movables unto my dastor Mary, Robert and Benjamin, and ye child that which my wife is bigy with to be equally divided amongst them, only my dattor Mary shall have two shares.

I likewise nominate make and ordain my well beloved wife and my brother John Peddrick my whole and sole executors of this my last will and testament all and singular and hereby uterly disalow revoke and disanull all and every other former wills and testaments and legacies and executors by me in any ways before this time named willed bequeathed, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seale sd day and year above written." Signed, Thomas Peddrick.

Witnesses: Thomas Sheppard, Thomas Moulder and William Rogers. Inventory 89 lbs., 17 sh., 8 d., made by William Hewes and Thomas Sheppard. The original will is not at Trenton and the above as copied may be its facsimile. He may have used the double letter D, but the custom was not prevalent.

Now as to the inheritance of Thomas from his father Roger, the latter states in his will that "I give to my three youngest sonnes Thomas, Michael and Philip after the decease of my wife all that remaineing part of land aforesaid to be equally divided between them." He had 1140 acres of which 400 was willed to John. The only real estate transaction for Thomas appears in Salem deed book A. E. Page III on 11-6-1716 when Thomas was 35 years of age as follows. "This indenture made the 6th day of November, Anno Domini 1716, between John Pedrick of the Co. of Salem in the province of W. J., son and heir apparent of Roger Pedrick of the Co. of Salem, gentleman deceased of the 1st part and Thomas Pedrick of the Co. of Salem of the other part, 2nd son of Roger Pedrick doth witness, that for and in consideration of the sum of five shillings in hand paid and also for divers good causes and considerations to me the said John Pedrick specially moveing the receipt whereof I doth hereby acknowledge and of every part and parcel thereof forever acquit and forever discharge the said Thomas Pedrick his heirs, executors and administrators forever by these presents hath granted.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-5 THOMAS.

(Deed Con.) Bargained and sold and confirmed and by these presents doth grant bargain and sell and convey unto the said Thomas Pedrick his heirs and assigns forever three hundred and seventy acres of land as the same is laid forth and surveyed with allowance for roads; Beginning at Delaware River and so South 120 Perches, then South and by West 41 Perches South S. East 76 Pole as unto John Pedrick's land with Marsh and Swamp with all and singular the appurtenances thereunto belonging or anyways appertaining unto the said Thomas Pedrick his heirs executors and assigns forever. And the said John Pedrick for myself and my heirs and Executors doth Covenant and grant to and with the said Thomas Pedrick his heirs and assigns shall and may hold and enjoy the said three hundred and 70 acres of land marsh and swamp and premises and he receive and take the rents issues and profits thereof with the said Thomas Pedrick his heirs and assigns shall and may hold and from time to come and at all times hereafter without any Lett, Execution or disturbance to him the said John Pedrick, his heirs and assigns forever by any other person or persons lawfully claiming or to claim by from or under him shall and will warrent and forever defend by these presents. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this day and year first above written." Signed, John Pedrick in the presence of Edmund Nox and Mordecai Howell.

Now of the 1140 acres of land, John inherited 400 leaving a balance of 740 of which Thomas was deeded half or 370 acres just three years before his death. Why he did not receive a deed for his portion before is not known. His will mentions this 370 acres which was devised to his two eldest sons Thomas and Philip, which shows he acquired no other land.

3 THOMAS, first born of Thomas in 1705, died 1779, age 74. Married 1729 REBECCA BICKHAM (Haddonfield Mtg. Record) no doubt a sister of Hannah who married his brother Philip 3 years later. His will was probated 5-8-1779, named as weaver, daughter Elizabeth a good bed, son Elijah a lot of meadow on Old Man's Creek, son Samuel 50 acres of land with the plantation in the tenure of Conrad Russ, son Joshua, all he now holds and the rest of lands, son Johnathan 100 lbs., wife Rebecca use of lands and to have the movable estate. The will of Thomas Sr. bequeaths his real estate equally between Thos. and his brother Philip when they shall come to the age of 20. When Roger died his 1000 acres became vested in his eldest son, John, and in 1716 John conveyed to his brother Thomas 370 acres as his portion, which 370 acres became the property of the above Thomas and his brother Philip, in common, and September 27, 1740, division of these 370 acres was made by metes and bounds between the two brothers. Now in 4-2-1750, Thomas sells his part or 185 acres to Mounce Hofman for 250 pounds. (Deed book K-21.) This land, marsh and swamp was located at a stake by the Delaware River, thence South to a white oak on the bank, thence Southwest to a hickory sapling on the line of John Pedrick, thence along the same to a cor. for the said Div., thence North to black oak sapling marked with 12 notches standing by the marsh side, thence Northeast to Old Man's Creek, thence down the same bounding by several courses to the mouth of same, thence down the Delaware River to place of beginning, containing 185 acres. Signed, Thomas Pedrick in presence of Isaac Ellis, Martha Shivers, Samuel Shivers. Naturally, Thomas, Jr., then bought land elsewhere as devised in his will, but space precludes going further into this.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2 THOMAS; 3 THOMAS, JR.

The recorded activities of Thomas are as follows: On inventory 1763 estates of Jos. Twentyman, P. Nk. 91 lbs., and Jas. Hoffman, 57 lbs. 1768 same Samuel Somers, Great Egg Harbor, 253 lbs. and John Somers P. Nk. 395 lbs. 1770 same Stephen Ayres, UPNK. 321 lbs. The marriage files reveal little regarding his children. Rebecca probably married "Wiljam Slide" 10-13-1764. Of the four sons Elijah probably died in 1799 as letters of Adm. was granted at that time to Ephraim Barnes and Caleb Kirby for estate of Elijah Pedrick of Salem Co., deceased intestate. No records otherwise or whether he married. What became of sons Samuel and Johnathan has not yet been ascertained. However, we are able to deal with his son Joshua which follows. His daughter, Margaret, married a Stanton.

4 JOSHUA PEDRICK, born 1735, died 1798, age 63; married ELIZABETH, who died in 1803. He had interests in New Castle Co., Del., and will book (O. P. 410), Wilmington, Del., shows probate 9-10-1798 and names his three children, his brother Elijah and Johnathan, and his sisters Margaret Stanton and Rebecca Pedrick.

Salem, Sept. term, 1801, Div. of lands book (A.P. 372), Isaac Pedrick and Gideon Scull, two of the Ex. of the last will of Joshua Pedrick late of New Castle Co., Del., dec., have with Stephen Hays their co-Ex., exhibited in the Registers office of the said Co. on their solemn oath and affirmation a true and perfect Inv. and account of their Adm. in the goods and chattels and credits of said deceased as to the court appears proper trustees under the seal of said office and the said Ex. having filed in the Court duly attached debts of the said Joshua Pedrick deceased as far as they can discover the same, by which it appears the personal estate of the said deceased is insufficient to pay said debts and expenses and the said Exs. having represented that the said deceased died seized of real estate in said Co. of Salem and prayed the order of the court in the premises. Ordered that all persons interested in the real estate of said deceased do appear before the Judge of the Court on the Monday preceding next December term by ten o'clock in the forenoon at the Courthouse in Salem to show cause if any they have why so much of said deceased's real estate should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay the debts.

At the December term of Court the sale was ordered. It appears the sale was not soon made and in 1802 the Exs. were ordered to appear before the Court to show cause for not selling. A decree was made and then land was sold in Mannington for $4390 and 3/7 of a 40-acre tract for $73.50.

June term Court, 1802, Petition of Isaac Pedrick, guardian of Johnathan, Thomas and Marie Pedrick, children of Joshua, deceased, for division of a plantation in Mannington as heirs of their mother Elizabeth, deceased intestate. March term, 1803, petition of George Lawrence who bought off Exs. of Joshua Pedrick one moriarity of a plantation in Mannington wherein he now liveth the other moriarity belonging to Elizabeth, the wife of said deceased, who has died and said moriarity descended to the children of said Elizabeth. The prayer of the petitioner is that Commissioners be appointed to divide the said real estate. At the March term, 1806, Isaac Pedrick, guardian, was granted relinquishment of trust and at the same term on petition of Mary Pedrick, daughter of Joshua under 21, Jacob Ridgway was appointed as guardian and also for Thomas and Johnathan under 14.

Maria was a school teacher prior to marriage and Ebenezer as an executor of his father's estate received an inheritance and continued through life as a farmer. The headstone in the cemetery quotes Maria as born 12-23-1796, but her guardian in 1806 indicates her as 14, which would make her birth in 1792. They were married 37 years and had seven children.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-5 THOMAS; 3 ROBERT.

3 ROBERT PEDRICK was born about 1710 and married MARTHA JUSTICE, daughter of Peter (Trinity Church Record, Swedesboro). There is no record of any Quaker activities. He died in 1771, age 61. The Church records show that Martha was born 10-28-1720, daughter of Peter and Helena (Locke) Justice. Robert made his will 11-13-1771, which was probated 12-30-1771. He leaves his wife the use of the plantation seven years, to bring up the youngest children. Son Benjamin 101 pounds, Samuel 5 pounds, Robert 5 pounds when 21, son Siles 5 pounds, daughter Rebecca a Bible, daughter Ledia a cow, wife Martha the rest of the movable estate. Son Miles "all my land", sons Robert and Siles to be put to trades when they are 14. Executors wife Martha and son Miles. Witnesses Thomas Hewes, Jeremiah Ollen and Samuel Lench. Inventory totals 109 pounds, 13 shillings, 2 pence, including an item "Due from Peter Justice for boarding his father 12 years, 27 pounds."

There must have been little poverty before 1800 when board was charged a person at the rate of 25c per week, and referring to above Rebecca, who was bequeathed the family Bible, it might be possible to locate it amongst some of her descendants.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2 THOMAS; 3 ROBERT AND MARTHA JUSTICE

4 MILES PEDRICK was born abou 1745 and died in 1807, age 62. His wife was SARAH, who outlived him. He was bequeathed all his fathers' land being, the eldest son, which consisted of 161 acres which had been bought by his father outside of the original 1000 acre Pedrick purchase. Miles sold this land before his death and had also come into possession of other land besides.

As an example of how these deeds were drawn in Colonial times and as showing the location and value of the land, the sale is herewith copied.

(Salem deeds, E-85, 2-5-1802) Miles and Sarah to Joseph Guffey, all of U. P. Neck. "Whereas Thomas Penn and Richard Penn stood seized in their demise as of fee of and in divers trusts and parcels of land situate lying in the State of New Jersey aforesaid, And whereas Thos. Penn and Richard Penn as thereof being seized by instrument duly executed bearing date the 4th day of March, 1746-47, did constitute and appoint Richard Peters and Lynford Ladner to be their joint attorneys and the survivor of them the said R. P. and L. L. and each of them for their affairs in New Jersey and particularly to sell and dispose of and every of their or either of their lands tenements and hereditaments in both or either of the Divisions of New Jersey aforesaid, or whereas or whereto they or either of them have or hath any estate right claim title or interest within the province of New Jersey or any part thereof for the price and prices on the best terms that can from time to time be gotten for the same and to receive and give releases and discharges for the monies arriving by the sale or sales and for and on behalf of them the said Thomas Penn and Richard Penn each of them to sign, seal and execute all such deeds and conveyances instruments or other writings as shall be necessary for perfecting such sale and conveyance as on and by the same in part recited or Power of Attorney records in the Secretary's Office at Burlington in Book H, folio 76, may more at large appear.

WHEREAS the said R. Peters and L. Ladner by deed of conveyance bearing date the 12th of September in the Year of our Lord (1754) and for the consideration named therein did sell unto Robert Pedrick, his heirs and assigns a part or parcel of the lands aforesaid situated in the Township, County and State aforesaid, containing 161 acres.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2 THOMAS; 3 ROBERT AND
MARTHA JUSTICE; 4 MILES PEDRICK

And he the said Robert Pedrick being so thereof lawfully seized departed this life but first made his last will and testament bearing date the 31st day of December, 1771, did therein demise and bequeath unto his son Miles Pedrick the present grantor all his lands whatsoever to him his heirs and assigns forever as reference thereunto being had will more fully appear.

NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that the said Miles Pedrick and Sarah his wife for and in consideration of 600 pounds lawful money of the State aforesaid to them in hand paid or secured to be paid by the said Jos. Guffey before ensealing and delivery hereof the seal thereof they do hereby acknowledge and thereof do acquit and fully discharge said J. G. his heirs and assigns forever, have granted, bargained, sold, aliened, conveyed and confirmed and by these presents do grant, bargain, sell, alien, convey and conform unto the said J. G. his heirs and assigns a PLANTATION tract or parcel of land being a part or parcel of the above mentioned tract of 161 acres devised to him by his father aforesaid.

Beginning at a sapling tree marked with 12 notches being a corner of the late Aquilla Jones land standing by the side of a swamp, runs thence South 51 deg. and 53 ch. joining on said Jones land, Poltis Risners and John Somers lands to a small gum sapling standing in the line of said Somers and corner to Isaac Pedrick's land. Thence South 68 deg. West 28 ch. and 10 links by the said Isaac Pedrick's land to a stake or post being a corner to the said I. P. land. Thence North 51 deg. West 27 ch. and 97 links by the said Isaac Ward's land and John Somers to a black oak marked with 12 notches for a corner, thence North 22 deg. and 26 ch. to the place of beginning within which bounds are contained 108 acres and one-half be it more or less. Together with all and singular the Buildings, Fencings, Woods, Underwoods, Ways, Water Courses, Fishings, Fowlings, Hawkings, Huntings and all the rights members privileges powers profits commodities immunities hereditaments and appurtenances whatsoever to the same belonging or in any wise appertaining and also all the estate right title interest use possession property claim and demand whatsoever of them the said Miles Pedrick and Sarah his wife either in law or equity of in or to the said land and premises hereby granted or any part or parcel thereof and the reversion and remainder thereof.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2 THOMAS; 3 ROBERT AND MARTHA JUSTICE; 4 MILES

To have and to hold all and singular the said 108 acres and a half of land and swamp more or less and every part and parcel thereof with the appurtenances whatsoever unto the said tract of land belonging or in any wise appertaining unto the said J. G. his heirs and assigns to the only proper use and behoof of the said J. G. his heirs and assigns forever and the said Miles Pedrick for himself his heirs, administrators and executors do covenant, promise, grant to and with the said J. G. his heirs and assigns by these presents in manner and form as followeth that is to say that the said M. P. now at the time of sealing and delivery hereof and stands lawfully seized in the said land and premises granted and every part thereof and of an absolute estate in fee simple and that the said J. G. his heirs and assigns shall and lawfully may at all times forever hereafter by force and virtue of these presents peaceably and quietly hold, occupy, possess, and enjoy all and singular the above granted land and premises with the appurtenances, free and clear of all former bargains, sales, mortgages, leases, will entails, jointure, dowers, judgments, or any other incumbrances that might in any wise obstruct or make void the present deed and the said M. P. for himself, his heirs and assigns do covenant promise to and with the said J. G., his heirs and assigns, by these presents that he the said M. P., his heirs, executors, administrators and every of them all and singular, the hereby granted and bargained premises unto the said J. G., his heirs and assigns, and against all and every other person whatsoever claiming or to claim any right, title, interest, property claim or demand of in or to the hereby granted premises by from and under him, them, or any of them, shall and will warrant and forever defend by these presents.

IN WITNESS whereof the said Miles Pedrick and Sarah his wife have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written. Signed, MILES PEDRICK, SARAH PEDRICK.

Sealed and delivered in the presence of us, Joseph Bevis, Isaac Pedrick, John Sooy. Received 9-22-1802, recorded 11-19-1802, Clement Acton, Recorder. (A long preamble and much repetition in the form of by-gone days.)

It appears the balance of the 161 acres was another parcel of 52½ acres sold by Miles 12-28-1797 to Isaac Pedrick for 271 pounds, 6 shillings, which Robert had bought from the foregoing a few years earlier than the above land as a part of unappropriated land originally held by John Fenwick.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2 THOMAS; 3 ROBERT;
4 MILES AND SARAH PEDRICK

MILES PEDRICK made a will which was proved 10-10-1807, Ex. his son SILAS. He made the following bequests. Wife SARAH, $300, best bedding, bed, two cows, etc. Daughter Hester new bed called hers and bedding, son Robert brown mare, son Charles young bay horse, son Miles last spring's colt. Sons Samuel and Silas to be kept in school till they learn the rule of three. Sell lot of meadow and other personal property and divide amongst children. Witnesses Samuel Fenton and Gideon Denny. Inv. $1876.37 including horses $100, 30 head of cattle $284, Indian corn in field $250, hay in stack $256, grain in ground $70, book accounts $156.75. His wife died in 5 months and her will was proved 3-28-1808, friend Silas Pedrick Ex. and guardian. To daughter Elizabeth Moor, 6 yards linen cloth, daughter Esther the remnant of linen cloth to dispose of to two youngest children, Samuel and Silas. To her also wearing apparel and bedding except coverlets. Son Robert choice of coverlets and $20, son Charles second choice of coverlets and son Miles $50, youngest sons Samuel and Silas $67 apiece and youngest son Silas to be educated at school to read, "whrite and sypher" to the rule of three and expenses out of remnant of estate. Residue of estate to younger children. Witnesses Jacob and Ann Somers.

The Friends meeting records do not disclose any activities of any Miles or Silas Pedrick.

Mr. N. O. Pedrick of New Orleans who is a descendant of Miles has some original records which look as though they might have been taken from a Bible some are illegible but I quote the following:

These records are used below and since each of these births state they were the children of Miles and Sarah and there being no other Miles and Sarah at this period it is very evident that they can be considered as original and reliable. Since the daughter Miriam was not named in either will she evidently died soon after birth. Official records of marriages at Trenton or as gathered from newspaper files and N. J. county seats do not record the marriage of Miles or in a positive manner the marriages of any of his children. Neither has Trenton or Surrogates offices assisted as to wills or administrations. There was doubtless a scattering away of some of these who lived very long.

A thorough search of the posterity of the above family together with other children not entered in the tabulation would gather enough material probably to make up a volume in itself. The records which follow while fragmentary have been established as relating to the above.

CHARLES PEDRICK married 2-2-1815 HANNAH SOMERS, daughter of Jacob and Anne. Salem Co. has no record of a will or adm. of a Charles Pedrick until 1890, too late to belong to above. The Pilesgrove meeting records give the date of his marriage since the Somers family were staunch Quakers. The witnesses at that marriage were Joseph, Silas, Esther, Deborah, Robert and Samuel of Pedricks. Old Philadelphia directories do not give his name and Salem Co. deed books give no Charles and Hannah as grantors of real estate during their active period of life.

5 SAMUEL PEDRICK, born 1795. He married and a record of five children has been given. He was next to the youngest of eight children The youngest, Silas, born two years later, married and lived in Philadelphia and was a sea captain and above Samuel probably also came to Philadelphia. The earliest city directory quoting a Samuel Pedrick is 1813, giving occupation as blacksmith. This is carried forward in 1814, 1820 and 1821, residence Prime above Front. Silas is recorded along the same periods as sea captain living at 65 North 8th Street. In 1860 Silas appears as a surveyor at 140 Walnut Street and living in West Philadelphia, and Samuel M. P. Pedrick as grocer at Lombard and Delaware Avenue and also as Samuel M. P. Pedrick & Co. (John C. Darrah) ship chandlers, 426 South Delaware Avenue, and living at 338 Lombard Street. This is evident although not thoroughly substantiated, but there were very few Samuels at this period of time. Whom he married or when he died has not been determined.

5 SILAS PEDRICK, born 5-30-1797, married 2-2-1825 MARGARETTA MINGLE, daughter of John Mingle of Philadelphia. He lived in Philadelphia and was a vessel captain the same, no doubt, which appears in Gen. Soc. Pa. Archives (Misc. box 2-A of Invoices), showing 6 bales of sheep skins shipped on board the brig Latona from Montevideo, Barbadoes, Silas Pedrick master, bound to Philadelphia for and risk of whom it may concern and consigned to Boran & Humphreys, merchants. Cost Spanish lbs. 172-29, dated 2-24-1834. The name of Captain Silas Pedrick also appears in the early Philadelphia directories of that period.

Between 1830 and 1842 he made two purchases of real estate in Philadelphia, one being a lot in Laurel Hill Cemetery through which could be traced his history and descendants if any.

He was but 10 years of age at his father's death and the baby of 8 children. His uncle "Siles" also the baby of a flock of 7 children. His father's will of 1807 orders him kept in school to learn "the rule of three". His mother's will the following year bequeathes him $67 and orders him educated to read, "whrite and sypher". How or with whom he matured to manhood has not been revealed but he evidently took to the water and became a vessel captain in course of time.

As noted above in fuller detail the Philadelphia directory of 1837 lists Silas Pedrick, sea captain, living at No. 6 Wallace Street. In 1839 he lived at No. 65 North 8th Street, where he stayed about 10 years. In 1847 he had an office at 22½ Walnut Street. In 1858 he was living "above William in West Philadelphia."

During this period there were a number of Pedricks in mixed occupations in Philadelphia. Elisha was a grocer at 47 South Water Street, later as Pedrick Stroud & Hood; Pedrick & Allison were tailors at 270 and 316 High Street. Joseph D. and Michael were tailors, John and Washington F. druggists, at 711 Market Street. Samuel P. Pedrick a ship chandler at 426 South Delaware Avenue and others, carpenters, paper stainers, plasterers, varnishers, potters, machinists, bakers, clerks, hatters, a dentist and one gentleman Elihu, at 1122 Green Street.

4 BENJAMIN PEDRICK was born about 1748, son of Robert and Martha Justice. He was the second child born and was 23 years old and married in 1771 when his father died. His elder brother MILES inherited all the land and BENJAMIN was bequeathed 101 pounds. He married 5-3-1769 SUSANNAH ANDERSON "Of tite" (from the Swedes Trinity Church records). He became established in Woodbury in the wheelwright business and died there, but no record of will or administration has been found. His real estate transactions recorded at Trenton have not been searched and there has been little uncovered concerning him. There were no early Benjamin Pedricks in Salem Co. since neither the brother of Thomas, John, nor any of his children named any son Benjamin. (Notes on Old Gloucester Stewart) 1817-19 in a description of prison bounds for debtors. "And including the market house, the slaughter house and wheelwright shop occupied by Benjamin Pedrick." It was no doubt here that his nephew Jos. D. Pedrick came to learn his trade. He died and probably left sons other than Benjamin, but the limits of this volume will not permit a search and inclusion of any other. It is by sequence of events and dates and names with nothing as yet to prove or anything to disprove that I correlate this family line.

5 BENJAMIN PEDRICK, born 1786, died 7-27-1877, age 91 (Trenton Archives), buried at Elmer, married PHEBE BROWN of Monmouth Co., born 1789, died 11-30-1878, age 89, buried at Elmer. The tradition as told me recently by William Pedrick Loder of Bridgeton his grandson who has just died last December 10th, is this. He learned the wheelwright business in Woodbury, came later to Whig Lane, then Pole Tavern, finally locating in Elmer. Had a brother John who lived later in Glassboro and a sister Mary, who made fancy vests in Philadelphia and died single. He carried on a wheelwright business in Elmer for many years. His will was probated 8-6-1877. His wife Phebe is left her dower and the right to hold all property until her death. At her death Elizabeth Pedrick $500 and the balance of estate equally between all his children, naming six.

She was born 12-28-1821 and died 5-2-1908, age 86, both buried in Broad Street Cemetery, Bridgeton. He evidently was not inclined to the business of his father and started out as a farmer. He located in "Dutch Neck" near Bridgeton and owned a small 40-acre farm and later also worked in a nail mill in Bridgeton. They were married 53 years and had 11 children. There is no record of a will or administration. His Bible, Phinney of Cooperstown, N. Y., 1841, descended to his daughter Emily and then to her daughter now Lida Opdyke of Roadstown, N. J.

8 FRANK at age four when the family moved to Atlantic City, grew up there and learned the carpentering business and later became a builder, contractor and developer in Atlantic and Cape May Cos., to as large an extent as had never been known before or since. He operated later as Frank J. Pedrick and Son. When 33 years of age he bought two building lots and started his career. In 1909 he bought a plot 250 by 175 and following this made seventeen other purchases down to 1920. His son Leonard was then taken into the business. From this time until 1927 they jointly added to their holdings, making 175 additional purchases of undeveloped sea shore properties, and opened up Marvin Gardens in Ventnor. In 1927 they opened up in Cape May Co., developing Wildwood Gables. There had been at this period a tremendous real estate boom throughout the country which had reached its peak and they with many others were caught in the downward drift, and were forced to assign their holdings to various mortgage holders.

It is regrettable that time has not permitted a fuller account through search of the above family of Samuel Pedrick and Sarah Stetser, but this may appear later in the form of an appendix.

"Happy the man who has learned the causes of things, and has put under his feet all fears and inexorable fate, and the noisy strife of the hill of greed."

VIRGIL.

and MARTHA JUSTICE

4 ROBERT PEDRICK JR. born 4-15-1762 (Tr. Ch. Rec.) died 1826 age 64; married REBECCA———born 7-27-1777, died 12-27-1856, age 79; both buried in the Episcopal Church yard at Swedesboro. His father having married a Justice identified with the Penns Neck branch of the old Swedes church, the family continued to be so affiliated and this part or branch did not become allied with the Quakers. He was left five pounds in his fathers will, and with instructions to be put to a trade when fourteen, but where and what, is not known. His brother Miles, the eldest of the children, was left all the land, but Robert succeeded in securing considerable fast land and meadow as evidenced at time of death. He died intestate and Jacob Gooden and Richard Somers were appointed to administer. Inventory of personal $2705.76. Commissioners were appointed by the Court to divide the real estate and report was made in December 1827, recorded in book D-PP-329-342, Division of Lands including a map of four pages very finely executed indicating his land as lying on both sides of the public road marked "Pedricksburg to Scull Town" and from Beaver creek to the town, and all the meadow land adjoining along Beaver, Old Mans, and "Batstone" creeks. This property was partitioned, numbered and marked out on the map to ten children. The sequence of the births of the ten children with approximate dates as close as can be calculated are registered below. Some of the old wills have bequeathed bibles which would be valuable and interesting if they could be located.

5 BENJAMIN PEDRICK was the eldest of ten children. He received an inheritance from his father's lands as divided by Court Commissioners in 1827 when he was 32 years of age. His property was along the public road between "Pedricksburg and Scull Town." The first real estate transaction by any Benjamin Pedrick was 12-30-1828, when the above bought for $110 from Joseph Armstrong 10½ acres opposite said Pedricks Lane in line of James Pedrick between Pedricktown and Sculltown. Armstrong was his brother-in-law and James his brother, who died, and his inheritance apportioned between brothers and sisters. Then Benjamin bought 6-7-1830 for $180 the part that was allotted to his sister Susanna Armstrong which was 10 acres. In 1835 he bought James' part that had been allotted to his sisters, Mary Moore and Rebecca Ann Matson. The same year bought his sisters' inheritance, Rebecca Ann Matson, wife of Asa, 57 acres, 20 perches, for $860.62½ and also for $175 another piece of 10 and 13/100th acres from the same. 1836 bought 80 and 9/100 acres of meadow for $175 that had been his brother James' land. 1837 from Wm. Keais for $230 80 and 9/100 acres meadow that Keais had bought from Benjamin's father. Same year from Lampleigh for $1633, four lots of land in Pedricktown, No. 1 a lot on which store house stands corner Somers alley along Union Street, 1/8 acre. No. 2 where dwelling house stands corner John Somers kitchen 20 sq. perches. No. 3, 20 sq. perches corner Wm. Key or Keais. No. 4, 1 acre and 3 perches that Lampleigh bought from Stanton beginning at Chas. Sexton, now Lampleigh corner edge of Union Street, corner Joel Corson now John Somers lot. 1840 from Stephen Straughen and wife Mary for $3000 subject to mortgage of $3000 held by Wm. Summerill and one of $400 held by James Eaken a lot of land beginning at a maple in Game Creek and runs by old Dolbow tract 246 acres together with 35 acres Wm. Summerill bought from James Holton. In 1842 from James Cahala for $125 road Pedricktown to Helms cove 34½ acres. Same year from James Sharp and Susanna for $1050 road Pedricktown to Pennsgrove corner John Summerill by Hudson Springer, Isaac James and John Dennis 46½ acres. In 1850 from Israel Barber for $260 10 and 40/100 acres corner Richard Somers to line Joseph D. Pedrick and corner Layman and Stiles. In 1856 from William Munion 1 acre for $14. 1859 from John M. Springer Ex. of Hudson 15½ and 2 and 4/10 acres in Amicable Meadow Co. 1872 from Chas. S. Plummer for $450 house lot and piece of land corner George Hoppel along South side Sparks grave yard ½ acre. This comprises all of Benjamin's purchases and indicates him as prominent.

5 BENJAMIN PEDRICK. It appears that in 1838 he sold his inheritance together with other pieces of land adjoining later bought from his sisters now totalling 196 acres to Joseph Sherron of Deptford for $4000 subject to mortgage and interest of $2060 due Joseph Aiken and also subject to annual payment of $33.33 to Rebecca Pedrick during her natural life which she takes in lieu of dowry. He sold in 1839 to Noah Firestone for $265 the land he bought from Wm. Keas, and in 1840 to Mary Straughen for $1750 the four lots bought from Daniel Lampleigh. His wife Sarah was joinder in these sales. 1841 to John Justice for $100 all interest in lands laid off to Joseph Neal, late U. P. Neck, allotted to his daughter Abigail and 1st wife of Benjamin, being two pieces of land on the Delaware River where said John Justice now lives and adjoining lands of Hudson Springer, Ebenezer Sparks and others containing 60 acres. No. 2 on Bever Creek adjoining lands of Hannah Pedrick, John Risner, Job Bevis and others. 1841 Benjamin and Sarah to Moses Wright of Philadelphia for $300, subject to mortgages of $2000 a piece of land in U. P. Neck bounded by old Game Creek, Neal Curry, Long Bridge road and heirs of Conrad Wright 122 acres less 87 acres which Wm. Summerill got by division of father Joseph, etc. 1842 Benjamin and Sarah to David Hillman for $3600, subject to mortgages of $2400 being part of land Benjamin bought from Stephen Straughen in 1840, beginning at Game Creek by Moses Wright and containing 124 acres. In 1857 Benjamin and Susanna (now his third wife) to Henry Mitchell to secure $3500 two tracts. Indian Run Bridge near Benjamin Black on road to Harrisonville from Centre Square and Pedricktown Road 81 acres and No. 2, 5 and 95/100 acres conveyed to Benjamin same date by Henry Mitchell and wife Elizabeth. In 1848, 1856 and 1859 he made three other sales to William Munion, Andrew Longacre and John Ashcraft which practically covers all real estate transfers. These records are recounted as throwing light on the various people active in the drama of the life of that day, and all ancestors of many people now living in the locality. His will was drawn 1-7-1875 and probated 5-6-1876 friend John M. Springer Ex. Wife Susan H. household and real estate while widow. At her marriage or death household to children William, Caroline and Lidia. Real estate to four children William, Caroline, Lydia and Josephine as follows, 1/2 to William and 1/2 to the others, subject to $50 to granddaughter Emma E. Pedrick at age 18. Personal assets, $864.55.

5 BENJAMIN PEDRICK was born in 1795 and died in 1875, age 80. He was active and prominent about Pedricktown and married five times. While his previous real estate related records do not indicate it, yet a great grandson says of him: "Farmed at Eagletown" then to Gloucester Co. near Centre Square on a farm later owned by Tull called the "Whip-Poor-Will" farm, hard to raise anything on it, next to Old-man's township buying the Frank Hampton farm. Later sold and bought a home in Pedricktown. He was first a school teacher and married his pupil 7-2-1818 ABIGAIL NALE, daughter of Joseph. She did not live long.

Issue:

6 BENJAMIN GILL PEDRICK, born 1825, died 1903, age 78, married 10-10-1847 SARAH E. DAVENPORT, born 1831, died 1907, age 76, both buried in Perkintown cemetery. She was the sister of Annie who married James Pedrick storekeeper of Pedricktown. Benjamin lived on a small place near Oldmans station and was a gardener and fisherman chiefly. No record of will or administration. Salem Co. deeds show that 11-5-1864 he bought from Jacob K. Justice and Deborah Ann for $300, a property on the road from Pedricktown to Pennsgrove of 2 and 12/100 acres beginning at the cor. of Chalkley Pedrick, the part of land that Deborah Ann (Pedrick) Justice purchased from John James 2-7-1864. The Del. Shore R. R. went through his property and in 1875 he sold right of way to them. It is evident that as the people multiplied and each division of an estate kept growing smaller there was a general falling off in each ones possessions at death but this did not have any effect on the size of the family. Benjamin's father had at least 10 children by five wives, and he himself was married 53 years and had 10 children, his wife outliving him.

7 EDWARD LINCOLN PEDRICK, born 10-11-1867, died 7-24-1931, age 63.

7 CHARLES married ELIZABETH SHAW of Chester who survives him. She lives with a sister at Norwich, Conn., and her brother has a big business owning several silk mills in Connecticut. Charles and Elizabeth had no children and he is buried in Brooklyn, New York.

7 EDWARD never married and is buried in the family plot at Pedricktown.

6 CHARLES G. PEDRICK married secondly 10-5-1871 EMMA LOUISA LLOYD, born 6-26-1851, and died 5-22-1922, buried at Pedricktown. She was a sister to his first wife, but 14 years younger and lived to age 71, less one month, and outlived her husband 17 years. It has been handed down that Charles ran away from his home to Philadelphia, where he got work and later had a farm on the outskirts of the city and rented a stall in the old Market House on Callowhill Street where he sold his products. When the Market Houses were removed, he carried on a grocery and produce business for many years at the Southwest corner of Marshall and Callowhill Streets until death. From 1898 to 1904 the writer lived nearby at 323 Marshall Street, and the family dealt at his store, never dreaming that 35 years later I would be searching the history of this 42nd cousin.

MOORE, born 1801, died 9-17-1887, age 86. She died 2-7-1886, age 80; both buried in Perkintown Cemetery. The head stones verify above dates and date of marriage in Salem Co. records, which if not in error make her married at age 14. He was a farmer in the vicinity of Perkintown on land, no doubt inherited from his father. Mary also inherited land from her father as divided by Court Commissioners. They were married 66 years and had six children.

REBECCA married 5-25-1839 GEORGE P. DOLBOW, born 2-12-1814, died 9-29-1893, age 79; both buried at Perkintown. He was a farmer in the Perkintown section. They were married fifty-four years and there is a record of fourteen children born to them. It is told that the Dolbow family came from Sweden and settled in Delaware on the Christiana river. A son later went to Berks Co. Pa. and raised a family. The above captioned GEORGE P. and a brother Andrew, left there and settled in Upper Penns Neck N. J. A friend in Berks Co. by name of Becum told George to name his first son for him and he would bequeath him a farm. So the first child was named Martin Becum Dolbow, but he never got the farm.

The record of births is authentic which follow as taken from a framed family lithograph, owned by Mrs. Gebhard of Pitman, granddaughter of the above George, which he had obtained for the family records. It was drawn by an expert penman and entered in the office of the Librarian of Congress in 1872 and lithographed by Jackson Ruehlow and Co. of Chicago. The author was R. H. Trumbull. There is very fine scroll work of angels and cherubs and pen and ink embroidery about spaces for births and deaths; a work of art and a remarkable study for the historian.

8 GEORGE PETERSON DOLBOW was born 5-15-1868 on his fathers farm at "Laytons" lake on the Harding highway. He early took to the water and was a net fisherman from the Delaware Bay on up the river to Gloucester, in its season. He secured a Masters boat license and ran produce boats, built a barge etc. Later engaged with the Wilson Line and gave them thirty-five years of service as Master of every vessel in turn that they had built for them, such as the Brandywine, City of Chester, City of Wilmington, the State of Delaware, and lastly the State of Pennsylvania; and most of these boats the readers of this page can well remember taking trips down the river on before the advent of automobile travel and recreation. During the winter he had charge of the interned fleet at the old Hollin and Hollingsworth yard in the Christiana creek, and prepared them for the next seasons run. His banner year as Master was in 1923 when he had charge of 12000 people in one day and ran 102 days, carrying 400,000 people without an accident. He became recognized as their supreme commander. When the Wilson people sold out, his connection became severed. Since then he has Captained vessels along the coast between Maine and the Capes. He has lived both in Wilmington and Philadelphia lastly at 6153 Spruce St., and when his wife died has made his residence at the Masonic Home at 3333 N. Broad St. He married 3-16-1898 JENNIE SCOTT of near Seaford, Delaware, born 8-23-1866 and died 10-4-1934, age 68; buried at Riverview, Wilmington.

8 MAUD REBECCA STRAUGHEN married in 1898 Captain William P. Wright, born in 1858 and died 2-12-1923, age 65, buried at Lawnside, Woodstown, the son of George and Elizabeth (Lummis) Wright. He descended from the Wright branch of family from England and connected with Orville, pioneer in the invention of the airplane. The tradition is his forebear married a daughter of a Christianna who was a lady-in-waiting on an English queen who for an indiscretion was deported to Delaware and from whom the Christianna Creek was named.

Mr. Wright engaged early in maritime work and ran his first barge, the "Victor" from Corsons Landing. He increased his business of transporting produce, manure, and other merchandise later buying a landing on Old Mans' Creek, known as Wright's wharf, above Pedricktown. He had three tug boats built and a number of barges, mostly the output of Charles Paul, of Paulsboro. These tug boats were named Crescenda, Pensauka, Fred Cramer and Clipper and were towing as many as ten of his barges. His wife was actively identified with him in the conduct of the business for many years their red letter day being the buying of 20,000 baskets of tomatoes in the produce branch. They had no children. His widow is resident at No. 339 Main Street, Pennsgrove, where she has lived the past 30 years.

8 SAMUEL STRAUGHEN married in 1903 CARRIE MAY DUNK of Pedricktown, born 4-4-1884, daughter of Frederick and Rachel (Layman) Dunk. He has been a fisherman and trapper and dealer in hides for many years. He bought the old Benjamin Weatherby property on Mill Street in Pedricktown where the family resides.

7 GEORGE P. DOLBOW, JR., born 1-22-1855, died 3-23-1907, age 52, buried at Aura, married 9-9-1877 SARAH D. COOK, of Pilesgrove, born 3-12-1855, daughter of James M. and Rebecca H. (Pancoast) Cook. He first farmed George Mealeys' place along the creek at Auburn then to his father's farm near the Perkintown Cemtery. He then bought a farm and settled at Aura, where he died. His widow then married in 1925 ROULEF KNISELL, born near Pitman, 1-31-1853, yet hearty and rugged. The only sickness he ever had was a dose of chills when a boy. His mother said she would break them, so some applejack and blankets knocked them out. He says Mullica Hill was named from old Malachi Knisell. They sold out recently at Aura and moved to 511 West Avenue, Pitman.

is connected with the Vacuum Oil Co., Paulsboro and resides in Swedesboro, Battentown outskirts where he built a home in 1926. A psychological sidelight in re stirpis I have to note here in the finding by Burroughs, an old shelf left bible when he was cleaning and burning up at a home after a sale. The thought which prompted him to carry it home instead of burning it must have been sacred. The largest bible
I have seen lettered in gold "William H. Thompson" who married
Mary Lawrence, and contains the birth records of his five children 1849-1860. The ignominious remissness of some descendants regarding their lineage will redound to their everlasting disgrace. Cherish and preserve the things that were dear to your forbears.

He worked as a carpenter and was also in the restaurant business with his brothers-in-law. Layton in Philadelphia. Later sold out to his wife's brother John T. Perry. No children.

7 THOMAS BEVIS PERRY born 9-22-1863, married MARY ELIZABETH HOFFMAN of Leesburg Pa., near Reading. He was the first of the Perry family to engage in the restaurant business at age eighteen, at 831 Vine St., Philadelphia, where he worked and later bought it out. He operated this place successfully for over twenty-five years. During this time his name became a well known land mark of the neighborhood, close to another land mark in this history, that of the Fowler photographic studios on 8th St. about the same time. He gave up the business in 1914 and moved to Pitman, now resident at 26 East Avenue. His wife was born in 1863 and died in 1935, age 72; buried in Riverview cemetery. No children.

7 JOHN TRUITT PERRY born 1-1-1866, married 10-22-1888 MARGARET WISEMAN born in Wales in 1866, and died 10-31-1929, age 63; buried in Holy Sepulcher, Philadelphia. He came to Philadelphia in November 1886, and worked in his brother's restaurant on Vine St. In 1887 bought a half interest in the business at 2620 Frankford Avenue from Layton, his sister's husband, and the other half in six months from Smith, husband of his sister Ella. He later bought the property and carried on a prosperous business for fifty years. With changing local business conditions he closed up the business, but continues resident there.

LEWIS C. FOWLER married in 1878 ELMIRA ANN HENDRICKSON of Woodbury, born 5-17-1862, died 12-16-1929, age 67; both buried in the family plot at Eglington. He early in life took up photography under Garnes in Philadelphia. Started business in Tyrone and then at Lancaster and prospered. Came to Philadelphia in 1892 establishing himself at 238 N. 8th St. where his name and business became prominent in the days when 8th St. was a busy high class prominent thorofare, and the old Keiths "Bijou" was in its heydey. Many old timers can remember his place. He sold out the business to his father who died in 1934, and was succeeded by the son Benjamin Jr. who in turn gave it over to his son Walter, and Walter sold to outside interests, thus terminating the Fowler industry.

7 JOSEPH CHARLES PEDRICK was born 9-28-1859, married 6-13-1884 MINNIE STOCKTON of Beverly, N. J., born 11-22-1862, the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Bates) Stockton. She died 12-5-1936, age 74, buried in Evergreen Cemetery. They had no children. He recalls going to the old Quaker School in Pedricktown before it was moved away. He farmed and fished and later went to Camden. Was on the street cars ten years and with the Victor Company ten years. Lived in Camden until 1920, when he bought a home at No. 318 Morris Street, Gloucester, where he now resides by himself since the death of his wife. The Friends' Society had given over their school house to the public. It stood near the cemetery and had to be moved off their ground. It was moved near the roadside and later when the need caused the erection of a new school house on its present site the old school house was sold to William Titus and moved to the Dough-ton farm that Titus had bought to be used for a crib house. This anti-quated school house relegated to the storage of corn probably now exists on the above farm and could be viewed in retrospect in the same manner as the old Beaver Creek covered bridge, which found a last home as part of William B. Darlington's outbuildings in Pedrick-town.

AND MARTHA JUSTICE

4 SILAS PEDRICK was born about 1763, was 8 years old at his father's death in 1771 and the youngest of seven children. He is left 5 pounds by his father's will with instructions that he put to a trade when 14. There has been no record found as to how he attained his majority. No record of his marriage nor wife named in his will. The eldest son Miles was left all of Robert's land. However, the following copy of a deed is enlightening. 5-25-1797 being the 22nd year of the Independence of the United States of America, Silas Pedrick, of U. P. Neck, yeoman, and Abraham Sheridan, of Philadelphia, and Nicodemus Lloyd, of Philadelphia, blacksmith. Whereas Johnathan Roberts in life was seized with certain lands situated in Salem Co. and willed in 1782 and amongst other property devised to daughter Ruth 300 acres called Boyer's land, lying on Salem Creek in Haines Neck in the township of Mannington and after said devise will says and gives to daughters Margaret and Rebecca the remainder equally of that tract of land to be equally divided between them in quality and quantity by my executors to them and their heirs, Male of their Body, forever the said Rebecca being the above named wife of said Silas Pedrick. The Court made division in 1796 and the said land granted Rebecca in Fee tail that the said Silas Pedrick and Rebecca by their Council Lucius Horatio Stockton did at the Superior Court of the State of N. J., held at Trenton the first Tuesday in April, 1797, Dock Bar and Cut off all estate tail and remainders entail of and in the said Margarets land and tenements to her assigned by the said Commissioners of said Orphans Court as aforesaid, in consideration of 1125 pounds paid by Sheridan and Lloyd do grant and release above containing 311 acres. Signed, Silas Peddrick, Rebecah Peddrick.

The copy of this deed shows the letter "D" as doubled in their names. and that even though Silas inherited no land from his father, his wife did from her's and subsequently he had other real estate transactions.

4 SILAS PEDRICK left a will proved 7-6-1833, naming no wife who had no doubt died. "I, Silas Pedrick, of the Township of Upper Penns Neck — 1st to Martha as a specific legacy, one bed and one bedstead, two blankets, one coverlet and one quilt, all of her children and my blue corner cupboard with the contents of chinaware and the glass pitcher which property is not to be appraised by my executor, but to be her property immediately after my decease." The 2nd item leaves his son Miles a farm, his Bible, etc. 3rd item his son Chalkley specified household. Apply all residue of movable property and after payment of debts and funeral expenses divide residue between "My three children before named", Chalkley's share to be by his guardian put to interest till he shall arrive at the age of twenty-one. Friend Jacob Gooden and Richard Somers executors. Witnesses, Arthur H. Green, John H. Springer and Job Bevis. Inventory 12-18-1833, $1557.23 by Job Bevis and Arthur H. Green. We then have:

4 SILAS PEDRICK married about 1795 REBECAH ROBERTS, daughter of Johnathan. She died before 1833 and he died July, 1833, age 70, burial place unknown.

was born 10-8-1858 and living. She married 2-25-1880 MARK HOR-NER of Bridgeport, born 11-3-1857, died 1913, age 56; buried Lake-park. They were married in Woodstown by the Rev. N.J. Wright.
Mark, the son of Malachi and Mary (Homan) Horner. He was a farmer in Gloucester County, and his widow is living with her son on a farm of thirty acres owned by the Peasley family on a bluff, east of the Mickelton-Clarksboro-highway near Clarksboro.

Their bible (Miller Philadelphia) was considered by Mark, important enough to have Captain John Truitt who was a pen artist to indite the family records, which was very finely done.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-5 THOMAS; 3 HUGH

HUGH PEDRICK was the sixth and posthumous child of Thomas, as reference to his foregoing will will more fully appear. Now Hugh was born after his father's death in late 1719 or 1720, and the first record uncovered of any Hugh Pedrick was gleaned from the Friends minutes 1-28-1765 when "Hugh Pedrick and Elizabeth Booth declared intention of marriage" 2-25-1765. "Above came second time, consent given, com. appointed" 4-1-1765. "Report made on above and marriage certificate returned." The womens meeting minutes show this marriage occurred 2-28-1765, and Elizabeth Booth was from Alloway of Quaker family, which evidently brought Hugh into the fold. 12-3-1772 attended an Evans marriage, 2-22-1773 on Com, Quarterly meeting, 12-1-1774 Hugh and Elizabeth and Daniel and Naomi to marriage of Rebecca Pedrick of Piles Grove to Zachariah Jess of same. 2-24-1777 on Marriage Com. and same year to attend Qr. Mtg. This comprises all of his Quaker activities recorded. A record of the births of his children are taken from the Piles Grove meeting records as recorded below. His wife Elizabeth died and he married secondly as shown by his will of 1792 Phebe. No record of interment found.

His will was drawn 27 day of 4 month 1792, the year of death. Hugh Pedrick of Lower Alloways Creek. To wife Phebe twenty pounds and all household she had before she became his wife. Daughter Elizabeth specified household and thirty pounds at age eighteen. To son Philip the above if Elizabeth dies without lawful issue. To son William, the land leading from Salem to Greenwich and other land. To son Richard all residue. Friends Barzillia Jefferis and Thomas Robbs Exs.

His son Richard died in 1795, age 28, intestate, single and his inheritance was divided by Court Commissioners between his brothers William and Philip, and his sister Elizabeth, evidently the only children then living. William received nineteen acres with a house and barn, in one tract being land and swamp. Philip was allotted 37 and 7/10 acres, and Elizabeth 21 1/4 acres.

4 Richard evidently died single in 1796 when his estate became divided between Philip, William and Elizabeth, indicating all other brothers and sisters were then deceased.

4 Philip bought and sold land around the period of 1800, but there is no record of marriage or other positive records established concerning him.

4 Elizabeth went to Wilmington, Del., and records there may disclose whom she married. In 1802 when age 24, she appointed the executors of her father's will her attorneys to sell her land in Salem Co., which she inherited from her brother Richard, which sale was made for 105 pounds.

4 William Pedrick (record obtained from the Justice collection Gen-soc, Pa.) born Greenwich, Cumberland County 7-11-1774, moved to Gloucester County and later to Bucks County, Pa.; died at Threetons near Columbus and below Bordentown. Buried Co. N.J. 1838, age 64; married Phebe Bates.

5 WILLIAM PEDRICK born 1797, died 5-11-1853, age 56 married. "This is to certify that William Pedrick of the County of Burlington, and Elenor Edwards of County of Cape May, was lawfully joined in the Holy bond of matrimony the 28th day of May A.D. 1820." Stephen Young, Justice of the Peace of C.M.Co. The daughter of Ellis Edwards, and born 9-27-1801, died 2-29-1884, age 82; both buried in the M.E. Cemetery at Burlington, N.J.

There are several cemeteries combined on opposite sides of the street in Burlington, and for the most part the lettering on the older stones are hardly decipherable. There are six burials of this family there according to the stones.

He evidently settled in Cape May County after marrying, and was a farmer and stockman there, for some time. His will reads as follows: I, William Pedrick of Willingborough Township, County of Burlington. First through the joint exertions of self and wife and blessing of Divine Providence upon our labors we are in possession of a house and lot in the village of Rancocas, in the township of Willingborough aforesaid where we now live; said house being furnished with goods for our accomodation. We have not this property clear, however, clear of incumbrance, but there is a mortgage on the said lot to secure the payment of $300 and its interest. At this time my health is feeble, making it probable that my continuing in this life may be not of long duration. I am therefore desirous to make such disposition of my property as will be best, and considering after the payment of the aforesaid mortgage and other debts and necessary expenses, there would be but a small sum to divide amongst all my children, but if left together might be considered servicable to my excellent wife in her declining years, and believing moreover that our children would wish every comfort to their affectionate mother which is in my power to bestow, I have concluded and do hereby Will, Devise and bequeath all my estate, both real and personal whatsoever and wheresoever it may be unto my dear wife Ellen Pedrick, and to her heirs and assigns forever having full confidence in her prudent and motherly care of our children and do constitute and appoint her sole executor of this my last Will and Testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the second of the third month in the year of our Lord 1853." Signed William Pedrick his mark. Presence of Israel Stokes, Charles Stokes and Granville D. Woolman. Charles Stokes affirmed for witnesses being scrupulous of an oath and Ellen as executor likewise 6-3-1853.

6 WILLIAM PEDRICK 3rd. was born 8-22-1833 at Dennisville, N.J. while his mother was sojourning there from their home in Burlington County. He died 8-27-1910, age 77. Married 1-19-1860 by Alexander Henry, Mayor of Philadelphia. REBECCA JOHNSON, daughter of John and Leah (Goer) Johnson, born at Vincetown N.J. 11-11-1835, and died 11-9-1934, just two days short of her 99th birthday; both buried in the family plot at Burlington.

He was a civil war veteran, having been a member of Company H, 32nd Regiment Pa. Vol.

As a boy he was placed with a family by name of Abercrombie, living between Rancocas and Mt. Holly, that were connected with a paper store in Philadelphia. When about age sixteen, William went there to work and learned the business and later became a member of the paper firm of Clothier and Pedrick and subsequently Pedrick & Warrington at 105 N. 5th St. He was successful and later retired.

1 ROGER PEDRICK 1645-1692.

2-5 MICHAEL PEDRICK was born about 1683, no doubt, at Marcus Hook Pa., although no record has been located. His sister Rebecca and his brother Thomas were born there 1678 and 1681 respectively, as substantiated by records, and he was the next child born. The early Salem County N.J. Court Records reveal nothing regarding him. Now when Roger died he bequeathed his son Michael as follows: "Item: I give to my three youngest sons Thomas, Michael and Philip after the decease of my wife all that remaining part of my land aforesaid to be equally divided between them." Since Rogers widow married again, Michael did not come into his inheritance for some time. The only real estate transfers in early days of any Michael Pedrick was in 1753 and 1765 which evidently relates to his nephew, the son of his brother John. It is most likely that he died single before the death of his mother. No record of his death or burial has been found.

2-6 PHILIP PEDRICK born about 1690 was the last child born, and was but two years old at his father's death. A copy of the Chester Mens Meeting minutes page 69 states that on 10-28-1713, Philip Pedrick married Elizabeth Coeburn, daughter of Sarah and John Coeburn of Aston, Chester County, Pa. Philip therefore grew to manhood and married, and was probably apprenticed to some one in Chester at a trade, and eventually settled there, although nothing has been learned about his brief career. They both died before 1723, leaving two children as shown by the will of John Coeburn of Aston made 3-2-1723 and proved 4-5-1723.

3 THOMAS married 5-14-1752 (Chester Mtg.) MARY CUMMINGS (Chester Men's Mtg. Record P-69). His will drawn 12-18-1798 pr. 5-7-1799 shows five children as follows. Thomas, Elizabeth who died January 1816, a daughter who married a Berchall; Samuel who married later and had Thomas and Ann who married Buckle.

3 GRACE married ROBERT GILLAM who died, and she married secondly by license issued 8-28-1749 John Norton, born 12-20-1725, in England and died intestate 8-25-1802. No children mentioned.

1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-6 PHILIP.

Recorded activities of the Pedrick family do not show many by the name of Philip. Rogers son Thomas named a son Philip for his brother, and later Hugh, the posthumous son of Thomas named a son Philip. There are no Salem Co. wills or administrations for any by the name of Philip. No Philip real estate transfers until 1740, after the death of the above, but no doubt a diligent search about Chester would throw light upon this part of the family tree. Some of his children or grandchildren evidently came from Chester to Philadelphia as there are a number in Philadelphia that have not been definitely connected, and they are all in the dark about their ancestry.

It is with a feeling of perturbation that I now suspend this narrative of family search since publication is due after a period of intermittent work during the past year. Having travelled over most of New Jersey from Trenton to Cape May, and throughout Philadelphia and its suburban territory in my quest, my subject has embraced many of the Pedrick family lines quite complete with the exceptions of the difficulties interposed in obtaining data through correspondence.

The many women born Pedrick who took other names through marriage in early times, and who have not been touched upon are just as important in life's drama, but time and means has prevented the placing upon record the names and biographies of their many descendants which I regret, but I can only trust that some future effort on the part of some one may bring this also to the light of day.

As the night falleth on all of us as years go by, so doth obscurity grow over things of the past which eventually casts into oblivion the lives of our forefathers of long ago.

6 SAMUEL PEDRICK born 10-1-1847, died 1-23-1935, age 87 at Delaware City Del.; buried Riverview, Pennsgrove. He married 3-20-1873 (Trenton record B.L. 767) EMMA FRANCES IRELAND of U. P. Neck by Socrates Townsend, Minister at Pennsgrove. She was the daughter of Catharine Ireland and was born 8-30-1849, and died 11-2-1909, age 60; buried Riverview. Her father was Clark Ireland and both her parents lived near 90.

Samuel had a Masters license and was a Captain of vessels for over fifty years running freighters in the Delaware and Cheseapeake Bays and tributaries. He gave it up when about 75 and lived in the Eagletown section about Dancers Corner, on a place of 19 acres which his wife inherited from her father. She made a will 4-29-1909 probated 12-6-1909 (N-106-Salem) naming her husband executor and bequeathing him the farm "and all that belongs to me" excepting Hannah her daughter specified household, CLARK her son likewise and also Emma Frances Webb, her granddaughter. After a time the farm was given up and Samuel went to Delaware City with his daughter.

1-1 ROGER PEDRICK; 2-1 JOHN; 3-4 WILLIAM;
4-2 ELIHU; 5-8 JOSEPH; 6-3 ELIHU

Referring back to previous data and to Page 64, some revision may be made and fuller records added from information given by Mrs. Emily Pedrick Houston of 111 W. Upsal Street, Germantown, Philadelphia, granddaughter of above Elihu. The original Roger had seven children of whom John was the first born. John had ten children of whom William was the fourth. William had but three, all sons named Daniel, Elihu and Isaac, all of whom left considerable posterity but all those of the name as descendants from Isaac were born and are living in the middle West, some locating in Chicago of whom correspondence to date has revealed nothing. Elihu had ten children the same as his grandfather, John, all born during revolutionary times and six died in infancy. Of the four remaining, Hannah died at 86 single, Jane married John Clark (no search), Isaac the tenth and last died at 32 from whom the author of this is descended and the above Joseph was the eighth born who died at 42. The family record of Joseph shows very favorably as born in the period of 1807-1822. The records were obtained from those copied from the books of the Pilesgrove Friends' meetings which state that Elihu, the third of his seven children, was born 11-7-1812 and was the son of Joseph Pedrick and Deborah Somers. Mrs. Houston has it he died 1-23-1885 in Canada and was raised by a family named Gilpin. He was 16 when his father died and his mother married again as related previously. Before passing to Mrs. Houston's part of the history I will add records given by her regarding her uncle Alexander not included on Page 70.

Alexander married ELIZABETH JANE COOPER, 10-17-1861. She was born in 1840 and died 5-23-1868 at 107 East 8th Street, Wilmington, Del. Of the three children of this union Lillian married MILLER CRANE EARL, born 3-21-1864, who is living retired at Elizabeth, N. J., and of their two children RALPH A. EARL, born at 565 Morris Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., married 6-25-1921, both living, no issue, Page 70, and his sister JANE C. EARL married 5-12-1917, both living, no issue. Page 70.

Now Alexander Pedrick married secondly 10-21-1869 EMILY CRAWFORD widow nee Giese. She died three years later 5-11-1872, at 140 North 20th Street, Philadelphia. There was one child, LAURA LAVINIA PEDRICK, born 7-29-1870, married FRANKLIN TRUSCOTT CHENEY, both living. They had one child, Alexander, dying in infancy.

ALEXANDER PEDRICK married thirdly 4-17-1873 JULIA C. SNOW. They were married 47 years and both died the same year, 1920, in Bustleton, Philadelphia. No issue by third marriage.

Continuing with a fuller account as later learned of the part of the Pedrick family appearing on Pages 319 and 70 as descendants of Elihu, 1812-1885, and who lived in Philadelphia and the only one of the name appearing in Philadelphia directories with vocation of "Gentleman", it is learned that Elihu also had son GEORGE PEDRICK, born 1-20-1840, died September, 1841, from a fall, and a daughter LAURA, whose history follows.

7 LAURA PEDRICK, born 2-18-1850, died 9-28-1926, age 76, married HENRY F. SWENTZEL by Mayor Stokley of Philadelphia.
